Sparks Fly at Meeting

"Anyone who does not think that the Nineteenth avenue and East Nineteenth street site for the new Manual Training and Commercial High School is the best location for that institution is a d—d fool."—F. B. Cook to members of the Board of Education.

"When I vote on the property upon which to erect that high school, I will not be ashamed to face the world. I hope that you can do the same, Mr. Boyle."—M. R. Bronner to Harry Boyle.

"As for you, Mr. Bronner, I can handle your case. You come outside and we will settle this right now."—Harry L. Boyle to Bronner.

"The Board of Education should be given credit for trying to act fairly and squarely for the good of the city. I don't like to see their motives questioned."—Miss Annie Florence Brown to the directors of the board.

Amid cheers and stamping the members of the Oakland Board of Education endeavored to conduct the regular weekly session last evening in the city hall annex, where half a hundred men and women representatives from various organizations of this city voted for the installation of a high school, a feature of placing the new manual training and commercial high school in East Oakland. There was a small delegation from the Santa Fe Improvement Club, who were seated on one side of the directors' room, and men and women of the organizations of the east side segregated themselves in another part of the house.

Director Annie Florence Brown followed Cook's remarks.

"I think that the intermediate high school is one step in advance in the educational work of this city," she said. "Leading educators of the United States, who have studied the educational systems, are advocating the intermediate high schools. Twenty-six cities in the United States have the intermediate high schools. They have proved a success. We are not experimenting with this issue. We have the statistics from the men and women in charge of the schools upon the intermediate high schools and we have wanted to speak with regard to what they were granted the privilege of expressing themselves pro and con for the new school site the enthusiasm of expressing themselves pro and con for the new school site the enthusiasm and the feeling among the constituents was marked. The improvement club representatives argued upon the proposed plan of the Board of Education to unite the manual training and commercial high school and also talked about intermediate high schools.

Immediately after Capt. G. M. Orr, president of the Board of Education, called the commissioners to order there was somewhat of a bustle in the room. There was much whispering and noise. President Orr frequently used the gavel and made an appeal for order. The different civic workers of the eastern section of the city wanted to be heard before the routine business of the board had been disposed of. The visitors became impatient and wanted to speak with regard to what they were granted the privilege of expressing themselves pro and con for the new school site the enthusiasm and the feeling among the constituents was marked. The improvement club representatives argued upon the proposed plan of the Board of Education to unite the manual training and commercial high school and also talked about intermediate high schools.

Declaring that the Board of Education would be acting contrary to the wishes of the people of Oakland if they established the intermediate high schools, F. B. Cook, chairman of the building grounds and equipment committee of the Board of Education, moved that the board rescind the resolution for the establishment of the intermediate high schools.

MAJORITY AGAINST.

Woman Tries to Jump From Speeding Limited

CHICAGO, March 8.—Miss Anna White of San Diego, Cal., was taken from a Santa Fe train today when it reached Chicago. She is said to have attempted to jump from the train while it was running rapidly. She will be examined by physician as to her mental condition. Mrs. White was on her way to visit relatives in Boston. Her friends were notified of her condition.

Thousands of Strikers Make Big Demonstration

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 8.—The striking textile workers made a big demonstration this morning before the mills opened. Thousands of men and women crowded Essex street and the approaches to the factories over lined with pickets, but no trouble was of serious nature during the day. Five arrests of strikers were made for too strenuous picketing or disorderly conduct. An increase in the number of employees resuming work was noted.

LETTERS OF TAFT TALKS DEAD IN COURT TO VOTERS IN OHIO

Correspondence Between Ralph Thompson and Mrs. Prescott Introduced in Case

Slayer Held to Answer on the Charge of Murder; Insanity May Be Plea

Agitation That Shatters Confidence Is Not Good for the People

President Defines What Is True and What Is False Prosperity

ALLIANCE, O., March 8.—President Taft began today his three days' campaign through Ohio and Illinois with a long talk about political conditions in Ohio with L. C. Laylin and William H. Miller, two of the Taft leaders. Mr. Laylin said that "things were looking up in Ohio."

The President probably will make many rear platform speeches in Ohio. At Salem, the factories shut down for fifteen minutes and a great crowd awaited the arrival of the train. The President had no opportunity to address the crowd.

The President made his first rear platform speech at Alliance. He preached prosperity and spoke as follows:

THE TRUE PROSPERITY.

"Prosperity is the first thing that we should seek because it means happiness to everybody. We may have a prosperity that is merely specious. We may have our mills running to the full and yet there may be something of corruption in society and in the operation of through trials and combinations and discriminations of railways that make that prosperity one that really does not help us in the end."

"But, omitting that and assuming that everybody is obeying the law—and we are trying to make them obey the law—it is prosperity and business that creates a lack of confidence among those who have capital invested is not for the good of the people."

DECOTO OBJECTS.

"How can it be relevant whether Mrs. Clarke sought to obtain possession of this correspondence on this night of the murder?" queried Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto. In objecting to a question from Frick addressed to Mrs. Clarke as to her actions on the night of the shooting,

"I might be very material and relevant," responded Frick. "We have the statistics from the men and women in charge of the schools upon the intermediate high schools and we have nothing to say."

"It is entirely possible that a line of defense may be used turning upon the mental state of the defendant prior to this shooting. I do not say that will be the defense. But it is possible, and that being the case we have the right to demand to know anything that may have affected his mental condition. There is no evidence that these letters contained anything that would be material. But such letters as the defense has a right to know it, and perhaps to demand that they be produced if they are in the possession of the prosecution."

"It might be very material and relevant," responded Frick. "We have the statistics from the men and women in charge of the schools upon the intermediate high schools there. It is pedagogically safe and practically safe. We have nothing to lose and everything to gain."

NOT BREAKING FAITH.

"We will not be breaking faith with the people. Director Cook. Don't be afraid of that. I have the interest of the children at heart as well as the men and women of this city. I have advocated the installing of the intermediate high school plan for the good of the people. Not for my own benefit. I am considering the taxpayer and the residents of this community. There would be no need for the intermediate high school plan. It might be a success," he said.

"We are not experimenting with this issue. We have the statistics from the men and women in charge of the schools upon the intermediate high schools and we have nothing to say."

COURT TOLD THAT SPOUSE MIGHT NOT SUPPORT WIFE DURING TRIAL.

"Put a bell on him" was the suggestion of Superior Judge Gessford today to the attorney for August C. Findel when the court was advised that Findel, the defendant in a divorce suit, might not be found when he was wanted to pay $25 per month maintenance for his wife during the trial of the suit. Both parties are suing for separation on the grounds of cruelty and Mrs. Findel wants to collect from her husband in the meantime.

PETERSEN HAD LETTERS.

It developed later that Captain Petersen had the letters, his men having come into possession of the correspondence before that time.

After some wrangling between the CORINTO, Nicaragua, March 8.—Secretary Knox and party arrived here at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The special train carrying the Americans left Managua at 10 o'clock in the morning. It was preceded by a pilot train and followed by another train, on each of which was a strong guard of soldiers, the precautions being similar to those taken on the journey from Corinto to the capital.

The trip was made without incident, the secretary boarding the cruiser Maryland, which proceeded last night for Amapalo, Honduras.

Hard-Hearted Principal to Sus-pend Those Who Would Mix Romance and Education.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 8.—Declaring that love and scholarship cannot "mix," Principal L. L. Boeman of the San Bernardino high school has placed an injunction on that form of youthful love making described as "hand-holding." Hereafter suspension or worse will be meted out to romantically inclined pupils of opposite sexes caught in the act of holding hands.

Principal Boeman declares that love affairs have not only led to elopements, but in every case to a lowering of the school standing of those who engage in them.

In a statement issued yesterday he asked the co-operation of parents in breaking up budding romances.

SCHIFF FACING INDICTMENT VOTE TAKEN, IS THE RUMOR

MORTIMER L. SCHIFF, multi-millionaire, in danger of indictment, and below, JUDGE ROSALSKY, who sentenced Schiff's valet, Brandt.

NO WORD OF CAPTAIN SCOTT

Norwegian Takes Full Credit for Triumph Over the Antarctic Ice

To Go to Norway by Way of San Francisco and Northwest Passage

HOBART, Tasmania, March 8.—Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, denies having telegraphed anything regarding Captain Robert Scott or the British expedition.

Captain Amundsen, up to the present, is the only member of the Antarctic expedition who has landed from the Fram. Nobody is allowed to go on board the vessel under any pretext whatsoever.

The explorer says he is pleased with the results of his expedition, but otherwise maintains absolute silence on the subject. Captain Amundsen intends to stay at Hobart for a few days. He will go to Australia then and give a few lectures there, afterward departing for Europe by a circuitous route. He will sail from Australia for Buenos Aires, thence around Cape Horn to Bering Straits and through the Northwest Passage and Arctic ocean.

REPORT CONFIRMED.

The confirmation of Captain Roald Amundsen's attainment of the South Pole on December 14, 1911, received today from the explorer himself, at Hobart, Tasmania, sets at rest the conflicting reports current on the subject yesterday.

A dispatch published in the Daily Express in London yesterday morning stated Wellington, N. Z., declared that Amundsen had stated that Scott had reached the South Pole. It was assumed that this declaration indicated that Amundsen himself had not succeeded in attaining the object of his expedition and credit was given generally to the British explorer.

Nothing hitherto has been heard from Scott, and Amundsen now denies that he said or telegraphed anything referring to his British rival or his expedition.

HONOR GOES TO AMUNDSEN.

The honor for the achievement of reaching the South Pole must now be given to the Norwegian explorer until Captain Scott announces the result of his expedition.

Captain Amundsen for many years has been considered one of the most daring and competent of Arctic and Antarctic explorers. A sailor from his youth, he started polar search at the age of 26, when he participated in the Belgian Antarctic expedition under command of Gerlache. He was the first officer of the vessel and the voyage lasted from 1897 to 1899.

On his return Amundsen decided to continue polar research, but this time to go to the north in an endeavor to discover the northwest passage. He sailed for the north from Christiania on board the Gjoa, with only eight men, June 18, 1903.

Proceeding to Lancaster Sound, he sailed past Cape Adelaide and King William Land and Ross Strait. The vessel wintered there.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP.

For many months Amundsen waited and on August 26 met an American whaler east of Cape Baffin. He ultimately brought his vessel through Bering Strait and for the first time accomplished the northwest passage.

On the voyage he determined the position of the magnetic pole. Altogether he was three years on the way from Norway.

The Fram, which Captain Amundsen selected for his latest expedition, has been used for many years in Arctic exploration. From 1893 to 1896, during the expedition of Dr.

BRANDT TO HAVE ONE MORE HEARING

Capitalist and Gans May Give Their Testimony

NEW YORK, March 8.—The grand jury in the Brandt case lodged responsibility for the granting of immunity to Mortimer L. Schiff and Howard S. Gans, on condition of their giving the grand jury testimony, with Judge Cain of the Court of General Sessions.

The jury in its communication made a broad intimation that it contemplated the indictment of the two on a charge of conspiracy. Judge Cain has adjourned the sessions in order to look into the matter. It is rumored that a vote has already been taken in favor of returning two indictments.

Brandt was not taken into the grand jury room again yesterday, but will probably be heard further next week.

George Kenna, attorney for the defense, that returned the original indictment, was heard and Brandt may be held until Schiff and Gans are heard, if their testimony is allowed.

Consignment of J. P. Morgan's Collection Arrives at New York.

ST. LOUIS, March 8.—Ten-year-old Henry Lester's baseball arm is worth $200, according to a verdict of a jury in Judge Allen's court in the boy's $7,000 damage suit against John Lieffler, 78 years of age, a cobbler here, today.

Lester's right arm was fractured in fall he received August 21 last, when he was running for base to beat Willis Paper, who was "out" in a game of "baseball." Henry alleged that Lieffler knocked him down.

Lester testified that since the injury to his arm he is unable to play baseball as well as before. His pitching arm was the one hurt and apparently he tried to curve a ball, the member goes back on him, he said.

Collier's Attack On Headache Remedies

Collier's attack on all headache powders, pills, tablets and after-vessels containing acetanilid has been of great interest to the public, as it has informed them of the obnoxious features of acetanilid as a heart depressant. Physicians and nearly all manufacturers preparing headache remedies have used acetanilid because there was no other known remedy that would give a quick relief from headache and neuralgia pains.

It remained for a San Francisco chemist who passed the highest examination of ability that has ever appeared before the California State Board of Pharmacy to find a remedy that would produce the same results as headache powders containing the dangerous acetanilid, and at the same time be harmless. After experiments of many months he has at last succeeded in producing a compound that is absolutely harmless. It contains no acetanilid, cures headaches by removing the cause, which is usually due to gas, bloating and indigestion caused by fermentation of food in the stomach.

This new compound "neutralizes the acidity of the stomach and gives immediate relief for all stomach troubles. It is known as Cel-so. The first syllable "Cel" is taken from cellulose which is well known as a nerve tonic, and the syllable "so" is taken from soda. Celery, soda, sugar and other ingredients form this compound, which is manufactured by the Celery Soda Company of San Francisco. The physicians who have informed Cel-so, it has had a remarkable sale on account of its thorough efficiency and its absolutely harmless qualities. It is at the same time a pleasant, after-vessel, palatable drink. Any person who has trouble with his stomach should take Cel-so at once. It can be obtained at all first-class pharmacies. One trial and you will never be without it.

We should all have confidence in each other because we are in the same boat. If we have prosperity, then it is the poorest man that gets best out of it. When we don't have prosperity the rich can be comfortable still, but it is the poor man that suffers."

CHARGE BAD FAITH.

ST. LOUIS, March 8.—Managers of President Taft's campaign in St. Louis refused today to accept the proposal of the Missouri Roosevelt Club to hold a direct primary to settle the Taft-Roosevelt contest in St. Louis. The reply of the Taft forces says the Roosevelt followers want primaries only where they are in control and that the proposal was not made in good faith.

WARRIOR AGAINST LION TAMER.
MANFIELD, Ohio, March 8.—"Don't let the lion tamer get you," shouted a man in the crowd at Canton when the President finished speaking. The crowd laughed and cheered. "We do not believe in high tariff," the President said at Canton, "but we believe in tariff enough to preserve our industries and giving them a living profit so that they can pay good wages and that we can all be happy."

AGAINST THE PRIMARY.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Britton's bill for presidential preference primaries in the District of Columbia was reported adversely from the Senate committee on the District today. Senators Gallinger, Dillingham, Oliver and Lorimer, Republicans; Martin and Johnson, Democrats, voting against it; Senator Curtis Jones and Works Republi- cans, and Pomerene, Democrat, for it.

Roosevelt Leader
Would Have Primary

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 8.—Republicans from all parts of Alabama are here for the state convention. J. C. Thompson, leader of the Roosevelt forces, formally challenged Chairman George E. Long of the state committee to submit the question of delegates at large to a state primary to determine whether the voters are for Roosevelt or Taft. Chairman Long invited Thompson to submit his proposition on the floor of the convention.

DENIAL OF THREAT IS MADE

Mexican Minister Says That He Didn't Threaten to Hold
Americans as Hostages

Former Madero Leader Joins Rebellion With Large Force of Men

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Emphatic denial has been made to American Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City by Manuel Calore, the Mexican minister for foreign affairs, of the interview accredited to him concerning Americans and other foreigners would be held as hostages should a foreign force invade Mexico.

Ambassador Wilson, in a dispatch to the state department today, said Calore had declared his sentiments were exactly the opposite of those expressed in the alleged interview. He also asserted he would not let the matter rest with a mere denial, but intended to pursue a rigid investigation.

Further disaffection among former Madero followers was reported today. Miranda, a leading general in the Madero revolution, is said to have a large force under his command near the capital. Affairs in the state of Chihuahua appear to have quieted since the revolutionists took hold. There are approximately 2000 rebels reported in Chihuahua city.

Outbursts still continue in the states of Jalisco, Zacatecas, Oaxaca, Vera Cruz, Puebla and Tlaxcala.

Miss Z. P. Clark, an American, is reported safe and well in Durango.

Major-General Wood denied that two more regiments had been ordered to the border.

OROZCO LOOKS FOR TROUBLE.

CHIHUAHUA, via El Paso, March 8.—General Faquin Orozco, head of the revolution in Mexico, sent out 500 men today to look for Pancho Villa and his troops. It was desired to ascertain the disposition of his men rather than to bring on a fight.

Orozco believes that Villa will not oppose him when he takes his army out of Chihuahua for the advance south, preparations for which are being made. He thinks that Villa will form a junction with other federal troops near Torreon and that they may give battle there.

There was a skirmish near Jimines yesterday. Only few men were engaged and there were no casualties, it is reported.

MILITIA PREPARES.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—The possibility of the California National Guard being called out to take part in the rumored mobilization of the army and state militia in the Mexican border is indicated in orders issued from Adjutant-General Foster's office for the printing, in large quantities, of various field forms for rotations, movements of men, equipment disposal, etc., for use by officers while on duty.

OFFICER IS TRIED.

EL PASO, March 8.—Lieutenant Benjamin Field, Eighteenth Infantry, who crossed the Mexican border with a squad of soldiers on February 15, through a mistake, was tried by a court-martial today at Fort Bliss. The finding of the court will not be made public until it is given out at Washington.

Freight service on the Mexican Central was resumed today between Juarez and Chihuahua, under supervision. A passenger train will arrive tonight from Chihuahua.

SHANKLIN LEAVES MEXICO.

LAREDO, Texas, March 8.—About 200 passengers from Mexico made up half of them either Europeans or Mexicans. The National Railway Lines of Mexico, brought his family here in his private car. He will return to Mexico. The American consul general at Mexico City, Arnold Shanklin, was among the passengers.

NEW YORK, March 8.—

Bridgeman, president of the Arctic Club of America, expressed little surprise when he heard that Amundsen's claim to the South Pole had been successful.

"I have been in the business too long," he said. "Nothing can surprise me very much. I rather expected Scott would be successful and I should not wonder at all if we should hear in a few days that he had reached the pole."

"I have a very high opinion of Amundsen. He has shown before that he was a fine navigator and in earnest."

"As far as the comparative difficulty of finding the two poles is concerned, there is no question in my mind that the attainment of the South Pole was much easier than the North."

"Europe has looked upon the South Pole as her own field of exploration."

It was agreed at the international conference of 1895 that the North Pole should be left to the Americans.

"It is a matter of great importance to the public why I became a candidate," the statement said.

SENIOR IS ON

MADISON, Wis., March 8.—

Senator La Follette broke his silence today on the presidential candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt by the declaration that "in the presence of great problems, personal attacks on candidates should have no place." It is indicated in the senator's statement, however, that he will subject Roosevelt's public record to close scrutiny.

The statement was called forth by reports that Roosevelt had urged La Follette as the ideal man to make the fight against President Taft.

AMUNDSEN GIVEN CREDIT FOR POLE DISCOVERY

Royal Geographical Society Takes Explorer's Word for Successful Outcome

Fridtjof Nansen, she covered about 7000 miles in the Arctic ocean, 3000 miles being accomplished while she was frozen in the ice. She was not damaged.

Captain Amundsen left Buenos Ayres on his present trip late in 1910, with a small party of Norwegians, all experienced in Arctic work. He took with him a large pack of Siberian dogs and all his men were provided with skis. Amundsen's party made its base and winter quarters eighty miles nearer the South Pole than his British rival.

Nothing was heard from the expedition for many months until the arrival of the Fram was reported two days ago at Hobart, Tasmania.

After meeting Captain Scott in the Bay of Whales on January 19, 1911, Captain Amundsen camped with nine men in longitude 164 west, latitude 78. He has not revealed his subsequent movements.

Amundsen has settled his plans to sail from Hobart within a week for Buenos Aires. There he will wait for Hobart, Tasmania, and then on to the Bering straits. Then he will drift with the ice across the Arctic ocean and expects to emerge at some point between Greenland and Spitsbergen.

Scott's agent in New Zealand expresses the opinion that Scott must have changed his plans and proceeded with new exploring and scientific work, thus possibly delaying his return some weeks.

Amundsen Promises to Submit Proofs

LONDON, March 8.—Captain Roald Amundsen states he will submit his charts and all information concerning his expedition without delay, according to dispatches from Hobart received by a special correspondent at Wellington, N.Z.

Discoverer Knows
Nothing of Scott

NEW YORK, March 8.—The New York Times received a dispatch today from Raoul Amundsen at Hobart, Tasmania, saying that he knew nothing about Captain Scott, the British explorer, and his expedition.

Claim Is Accepted
by Royal Society

LONDON, March 8.—The Royal Geographical Society accepts unqualifiedly Captain Amundsen's claim that he reached the South Pole and takes it for granted that he was the first explorer to reach the goal, although Amundsen's brief dispatch does not mention the fact.

Geographers point out that Amundsen and Scott may both have been there and within a mile of each other without knowing it, and scientists here are awaiting further details before accepting definitely the defeat of the British expedition.

The message received here by the London Daily Express from Wellington, in which Captain Amundsen was reported as saying that Scott had reached the South Pole, was based on a telegram alleged to have been sent by the Norwegian explorer, of which Amundsen now denies the authenticity.

In response to cabled instructions to ask Amundsen point blank if Scott reached the South Pole, the correspondent of the London Evening Star at Hobart telegraphed today as follows:

"Amundsen refuses to say anything on the question as to whether Scott reached the South Pole or not."

Gjoa Is on Exhibit in Public Park

CHICAGO, March 8.—The discovery of the South Pole, besides a geographical achievement, will enable scientists to make long-time weather predictions, which has been an object of work for centuries," said Professor T. C. Chamberlain, head of the department of geology of the University of Chicago. "Therefore, we have been enabled to trace the winds and storms up to the time when they entered the Antarctic circle. At this point we lose track of them absolutely and do not know where to watch for their reappearance. It now becomes possible to make a complete map of the wind movements over the face of the globe."

Freight service on the Mexican Central was resumed today between Juarez and Chihuahua, under supervision. A passenger train will arrive tonight from Chihuahua.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The city of New York will endeavor to recover $2,500,000 for alleged breach of contract from the Pennsylvania Steel company, which built the big Queensborough bridge across the East river. Papers filed in the United States district court here charge that the bridge is not up to contract specifications, and will require an additional expenditure of $2,500,000 to make it strong enough to bear the load contemplated by its designers. The city's attorney characterizes the steel company's final certificate of acceptance as "false, untrue and fraudulent."

The amount thus far paid to the steel company for the bridge is about $5,900,000, the company is suing for a balance due on its contract for construction.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined Stimulate the Human Hair Growth.

Rosocin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Bain marie is a soap which is absolutely safe, germicide, and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established in its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair disease. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair follicles and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to add to the health and scalp, stimulates hair to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair providing, of course, there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

'CIVILIZATION'S RISE' IS THEME

Francis A. Quinn Is Delivering Series of Lectures at St. Mary's College.

St. Mary's College has the custom of having lectures given to its pupils by men not connected with the college on the various subjects taught in its course of studies. There are now being given at the college on Sundays by Francis A. Quinn of McClure street, Oakland, a course of historical studies on the birth and growth of civilization. The aim and intention of the lecturer is to show that the civilization of the twentieth century is the natural consequence of the labors of the church. In his first lecture the speaker shows how the church replaced the corruption of old Rome, its pagan origin and degradation, by the purity of the gospel and the purity of Christ's teachings. An example is given in the conversion from paganism to Christianity of the invaders who overran Europe and laid in ruins the magnificent material civilization which they found established by the Romans; how the church fought their barbarous customs and changed their inhuman ideals to those of Christian civilization and founded the present nations of Europe. All the work from the fall of the Roman and Greek empires to the renaissance is in reality educational, but it is especially now, in our times, in this twentieth century said the speaker, that it is especially important for the church to exert all her talents and her energies, more than ever, and to display all her love for humanity by cultivating the intellectual as well as the moral faculties of mankind.

Education is the problem of the times, the supreme problem, and to this the church is now devoting her energies, perhaps more than ever. She has transformed Europe from pagan corruption and worse than pagan barbarism. Why, asked the speaker, should she fear to take the lead, as she always has done, in leading the nations from ignorance and sin to light and purity?

Notifies Sheriff to Arrest Him After Cutting Man's Throat.

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—After having read in the newspapers that he was sought by a sheriff's posse to answer charges of having killed John L. Easton, of Redondo Beach, by cutting his throat, the Adams of Hollywood telephoned to the officers where they could arrest him. He was taken to the county jail to await the outcome of the inquest over his alleged victim today.

The alleged trouble between the men was said to have been caused by Adams' supposed jealousy of Easton because of the attention he believed the latter paid to his divorced wife.

THIS IS RICHMOND'S BUSY DAY IN COURT

RICHMOND, March 8.—Representatives of the district attorney's office are busily engaged here today trying cases of felony before Judge Lindsay's court and it will be late tonight or possibly tomorrow before the dockets can be cleared up. The cases are: James R. Hall, charged with failure to provide for his family, arrested at Auburn upon complaint of his wife, who is a resident of this city; William McDonalds, a local real estate dealer, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses; Thomas Dolan, charged with assault and attempt to murder his wife.

Milady's Toilet Table
By Mme. D'MILLE

The simplest aids to beauty are often most effective. I know of no truer beautifier for the complexion than a simple lotion made by mixing an original perfume, mutton fat, and a few drops of witch hazel. Gently rub on face, neck and arms, and you will be delighted with results. It will not rub off like powder, but makes the skin smooth, soft and radiant. It rests easily and preserves youthful loveliness of the skin.

Drying the hair makes washing the head a trying task. Dry shampooing leaves the hair clean, light, fluffy and beautifully lustrous. Put a cupful of cornstarch in a fine jar and add the contents of a small original package of borax and shake well together. Sprinkle a little on the head and brush thoroughly. That is all there is to it, and this treatment will make the hair grow if anything will.

It is impossible for a woman to look her best when she is suffering from a cold. The best remedy for colds, catarrh, sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, pleurisy, etc., is a strong dose of Molasses. It is easy to use and quick to act.

Some women feel humiliated because of downy growths of wild hairs. These can be easily and almost instantly removed by the application of deltonite paste. Mix one spoonful of lime with water to cover the hairy surface, apply and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

HEIRS AGREE TO MAKE WILL VALID

Nieces of Mother to Be Provided for From Fund of $50,000.

NEW YORK, March 8.—With the consent of the heirs of Robert Mather, at one time president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, who died on October 24 last, a court order is on file here today declaring Mather's will invalid.

The will provided that Gwendolyn Duke of Windsor, Ont., and Leila Russell of Chicago should receive no part of the estate until certain beneficiaries under the will had died. The effect of the suit decided here is to set aside at once $50,000 for the two women.

Mather drew up the will himself, and it would have been valid in Illinois, but the New York courts declared it void because certain trust fund provisions suspended the division of the estate for too long a time. The grounds for breaking the testament are similar to those which prevailed in the celebrated case of Samuel J. Tilden will.

The case is said to be the first in this state in which all the parties to a will contest agreed in advance that the will was void and joined in an application to the court to have the estate distributed as that of an intestate.

The will provided that the entire estate, valued at about half a million dollars, should be put in trust, with Robert Walker, president of the Rock Island Railroad, as sole trustee and executor. Mrs. Mather was to receive nothing unless it was necessary to liquidate her income received from his life insurance, to the $1,000 a year. Under the decision of the court here, however, she immediately will receive half of the estate, the other half going to the three brothers and a sister. All the heirs have agreed to set aside from their shares the $50,000 fund with which Mather wished to provide for his nieces, Gwendolyn Duke and Leila Russell.

LIVES 14 DAYS IN FREIGHT CAR

Man Found in Pitiable Condition; Locked Up Without Food or Drink.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 8.—Imprisoned fourteen days without food or water in a freight car in which he had "beaten" his way from Cincinnati to Charlotte, George Johnson is in a pitiable condition here today. Johnson was found in the car semiconscious and with blood oozing from every pore in his body. His condition has excited the interest of medical experts and every effort is being made to revive the flickering spark of life.

Johnson, who is a native of the village of Mount Holly, near here, left home several years ago to seek a home in the West. Failing in everything he undertook, he decided to make his way back home and concealed himself in a car of loose corn consigned to Charlotte.

The car was locked and sealed and his presence was not discovered until the car was opened here yesterday, fourteen days after it was pulled out of Cincinnati.

HOBO HEIR TO $10,000 PLANS RIOTOUS CAREER

PORTERVILLE, March 8.—John McDougall, who by his own admission has been a hobo for the past twenty years and whose sole subsistence came from an occasional remittance from England, went to the postoffice here yesterday and received a letter in which he is advised that he is one of the heirs to a large English estate. McDougall's share is placed at approximately $10,000 in the letter written him by a firm of London solicitors. As an earnest of the validity of the fortune the letter contained a check for $100 for present expenses.

McDougall quickly went to a local "gent's furnish'r" where he purchased divers articles of wearing apparel and where he proudly exhibited the documents which proclaimed him the capitalist so belied by his appearance.

When he left the store after being outfitted he remarked confidentially that he anticipates an early trip to "the city" where his days will be spent in "riotous living" within the limits of his funds.

'JOKE' IS BRAND PUT ON EDUCATION BOARD

Director Boyle Declares at Meeting That People See It in That Light

into this matter half-heartedly, but we know what we are doing. The problems have been carefully studied by the board and the board would not be taking a step backward if the intermediate high schools were established in this city."

"With the intermediate high school proposition resounded," said Cook. "I have concluded that the board made a mistake and its action must be withdrawn in both the matter of the intermediate high school and the consolidation of the manual training and commercial high school. I don't want to tolerate anything that looks like trickery. I want all this rescinded. I am satisfied that we have made a mistake."

BRANDS IT ILLEGAL.

Harry Boyle, chairman of the rules and regulations committee of the board of education, shouted:

"It's illegal. We want the taxpayers protected and we want fair play. No tricks. No steamrolling. We want to give everyone a square deal. I believe that we will be breaking faith with the people if we insist on intermediate high schools."

We don't want manual training in the John C. Fremont High School, either. The bond issue did not call for the installation of a manual training department in the Fremont High School. That proposition of placing manual training in that school appears to be a joke. In fact, the board of education has become a joke in the minds of the people of this city."

At the close of Boyle's last remark with reference to the board being a "joke," there was laughter, stamping and clapping.

"The transition from the grammar school to the high school is too great a jump," said Dr. A. S. Kelly. "The intermediate high school is not an experiment, and I believe that the board of education took a step in the right direction when it made the motion to have the intermediate high schools in this city. They will give the people better schools for the same money and the same number of teachers. If it's legal we ought to have them. I think the question of a doubt. I'd like to know if it is legal, and then I would recommend that they be made a part of the public school system."

REFERRED TO ATTORNEY.

Upon motion of John Forrest, ex-officio member of the board of education, the question of the legality of the intermediate high schools will be referred to the district attorney for an opinion.

The effort made by Cook with the former action of the board with reference to the incorporation of manual training in the Fremont High School withdrawal was opposed by two votes of the board and the motion was lost. There will be manual training in the John C. Fremont High School.

Director Annie Florence Brown voiced her objections to omitting manual training from the John C. Fremont High School as follows:

"I am in favor of building up the Fremont High School to be an all-round, splendid school, and I hope to see the day that every department in the school will be well-organized and well-developed. When the manual training is incorporated it will be an ideal institution."

On behalf of the people of East Oakland, F. B. Cook made an appeal for the board to build the new Manual Training and Commercial High School on the property purchased by the city on Nineteenth avenue and East Nineteenth street.

"I make a motion that the new school be located on the Nineteenth avenue site," said Cook.

"Any one who cannot see that the East Oakland site is the best is a dead fool," said Cook.

"How can it be? In God's holy name, say where the development of Oakland will be if it is not in East Oakland?" shouted Forrest. "I feel in my inward soul that the East Oakland site is a superb location for the school. That section of the city has had a remarkable growth. Do you think that the growth of this community will be in the direction of the Forty-fifth street property? Then where will it be in East Oakland? You will not be doing right to the people of Oakland if you locate the school in North Oakland."

President Orr was against the East Oakland site for the school. He said:

"In the first place, I have always been advocating a large tract of land for the school. I favored even a larger tract than the Forty-fifth and Broadway site. As a matter of fact, should like fifteen or twenty acres be given to the school for the future, expecting to build a group of buildings to which we can add as needed. There are 65 per cent of the scholars attending the Manual Training and Commercial high school from the west side of the lake. The entire enrollment of the students taking manual training is 125. The Fremont high school today carries only a study which is a Manual Training and Commercial high school with the exception of the manual training. If we were to select the Nineteenth avenue and East Nineteenth street site every child in the city of Oakland desiring to take a commercial course would be compelled to attend either the Fremont high school or the school at Nineteenth avenue and East Nineteenth street, which I would not consider fair to the children of this municipality."

LOBBY IS NOISY.

One of the visitors shouted to President Orr: "The day for steam train is passed, Orr."

"Gag him!" shouted another.

One made no reply, but rapped for order.

Another rose and said: "The man who said that should be asked to leave the room. It was ungentlemanly. It was rude."

"There should be no profanity at the board of education meetings," said Miss Brown. "It is unbefitting a board of education. I like to see educators conduct themselves with dignity. The board of education should be given credit for trying to act fairly and squarely for the good of the city. I don't like to see their motives questioned."

The opinion of the city attorney in response to the question regarding the purchase of land for the Manual Training and Commercial High School was read at the meeting.

It follows:

"Now, should the board of education deem said described piece of land (a) inadequate or (b) for any other good reason appearing, refuse to purchase the same, and do not, through the council or otherwise, purchase the same, will the fact of such refusal or neglect invalidate the bond issue?

"Has the board theretofore or thereafter the power to purchase, in lieu of the property above referred to, another piece of property for school purposes in the immediate locality which will be adequate and suitable for school purposes?

"In answer to the first of these questions, I desire to advise you that the refusal to purchase any of the land mentioned in the bond issue would not, in my opinion, invalidate the bond issue."

"As to the second question, I desire to advise that, in my opinion, you have no power to use any of the money raised as a result of the bond issue for the purchase of any other land than that described in the bond proceedings themselves."

"The ordinance calling the school bond election described particularly certain property which it was proposed to purchase with the money raised from the sale of the bonds, and it is fair to say that the voters voting at the election did so upon the faith of the representations made as to the property that would be purchased, and section 6 of the bond act of 1910 provides that the proceeds of such bonds shall be applied exclusively to the purpose and objects mentioned in the ordinance, viz., in the original calling of the election."

zen of this city. I strive to give everyone a square deal, and when I am handling public funds I want to know and feel that I am acting for the good of the city and not for any particular section of the city or for any special individuals. I vote 'no' to the East Oakland site, as I do not think it will supply the wants of this municipality."

At this juncture there were hisses. Boyle threatened to see Director Bronner, which the board of education rooms," and said:

"As for you, Mr. Bronner, I can handle your case. You come outside and we will settle this right now."

Bronner remained calm and said: "I'm not afraid to face anyone here."

The heated argument ceased after Director Forrest urged the directors to proceed with the regular order of business.

"I move that the selection of the site for the new Manual Training and Commercial high school be re-considered at the next regular meeting of the board."

The recommendation of Director Forrest was put to a vote and carried by four votes. The ayes were Directors Annie Florence Brown, M. R. Bronner, Dr. A. S. Kelly, Calvin M. Orr and John Forrest. The noes were Harry L. Boyle and F. B. Cook.

Four directors of the board voted in favor of the Forty-fifth street and Broadway site, while a number of previous occasions Dr. A. S. Kelly, Miss Annie Florence Brown, M. R. Bronner and Calvin M. Orr deemed that the best location for the school.

Last evening the same directors declared that neither site was ideal, but of the two they preferred the Forty-fifth street land.

A Poet's Sad Blunder.

The good gray poet of the Santa Cruz Sentinel calls the editor of the Santa Cruz News a corporation tool. That is not poetical and it is not nice. Colonel Dunk McPherson is exhibiting some of the qualities and characteristics that make professional reformers so confoundedly offensive—characteristics which caused Jesus of Nazareth to prefer the hospitality of the publican to the ostentatious entertainment proffered Him by the rich Pharisee. Editor Mappes of the Fresno Mirror says he would be pleased with reform were it not for the reformers who make virtue an affliction and a farce.

The venerable songsmith of the San Lorenzo should not join a band whose bad manners make reform odious and the company of sinners a welcome relief. There is no sense in misspelling his lyre and mixing up Apollo with Beelzebub. He has sins enough to answer for without being a hypocrite, and his Homeric genius should lift him above all desire to emulate Thersites or any of the pimping paladins of reform who are crying out against their neighbors through their unclean noses and grabbing political spoils with both hands. Colonel Dunk does not belong to that breed. He was not born yesterday—it does not matter since no one has ever proposed to make it a legal holiday—and knows a thing or two, possibly three; he has sung and sinned like the gods of Olympus, and has no natural affinity for the chaps who wipe their dirty fingers on the Ten Commandments and raise the cry of Egyptian against every man they wish to spoil. No, the Bard of Santa Cruz is not of that ilk. He is no celluloid saint, no tin-horn upholder, no beadle for Dr. Pecksniff's parish. He is a forger and fabricator of poetry, not of foul words and coarse vituperation.

Besides, Colonel Dunk has no congenital antipathy to corporations or corporation shekels. He has been known to sing them a few songs himself. It is of record that his loathsome contemporary, the Santa Cruz Surf, has in time referred to him as a corporation hireling. Perhaps he was, we don't know; but if he was anything of that kind we will wager a dollar to a doughnut, or a mustard seed against Chester Rowell's soul, that the pay was good. The Colonel is not only an incomparable singist, but he is a thrifty business man. He sings from his soul, and can use his two hands w' the longest reach reformer in the land.

We will even back him in a reaching contest against Autolycus Jacksnipe Pillsbury, the windiest and nimblest-fingered reformer of the whole bunch. Everything from poetry to pap is grist for Colonel Dunk; he is the papiest of all poets and the most poetical of pap-suckers; and he has a beard as big as St. Nick's and an innocent eye that would fool St. Peter himself.

But the Colonel is no hypocrite; he is a poet, a songwriter from Songtown. Still he should not call names. The Teddy bears may come round and eat him up as they did with the hoodlums who yelled after the prophet, "Beat it, baldhead!" It would grieve us to have the Colonel eaten up, especially by a Teddy bear. It would probably grieve the bear still more, but that would not matter—the point is that a poet all chewed up is both unwholesome and unattractive.

Shall Colonel Dunk McPherson be subjected to the masticating process? Feish the thought! However, the Colonel would be wise to quit throwing stones and cease trying to speak in high nasal tones about the wickedness of his neighbors. Some ill-disposed person may be provoked into putting the tuning fork to the political side of the Sweet Singer of San Lorenzo. Pelt the blackguards with poetry, Colonel, and you'll keep them going. When you stoop to calling names you descend to the level of Chester Rowell and the official Window Washer of the State Capitol. Talk to them in rhyme and they will take to the tall timber. They can stand anything but that.

George W. Perkins, former partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, head of the Harvester Trust and director of the Steel Trust, is busy drumming up financial support for Roosevelt's campaign. In 1904 Perkins was equally active in getting subscriptions from the big trust corporations to finance Roosevelt's campaign against Alton B. Parker. While the fat was being fried out of the trusts by Teddy's agents, Roosevelt was publicly charging that the trusts were financing Parker's campaign. All the world knows now that the trusts gave their money and their support to Roosevelt. The Harriman correspondence and the insurance investigation proved that. Now we find a notorious trust organizer and agent again raising campaign funds for Teddy. It begins to be apparent why Roosevelt recently denounced the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The George Junior Republic.

A man who has found a new way to serve his fellow men is worthy of high praise. Such a man is William George, founder of the George, Jr., republic, who began a movement on his own hook along original lines to reclaim children from the streets of the great cities. It was the effort of a practical man to redeem children from evil surroundings and give them a fair start in life. There was no sickly sentimentality about his scheme. He did not appeal to others for financial assistance nor suggest a plan for others to work out. He evolved an idea from his own experience and knowledge of human nature and proceeded to work it out on his own initiative.

The history of the George, Jr., republic has become a familiar story to the American public; it is told with admiration beyond the seas, and has started a movement which is enlisting philanthropic sentiment all over the country. It is a story of practical philanthropy that reflects the highest honor on the wisdom and humane instincts of the man who originated and made a success of it. He made a success of it because he understood human nature and his heart was in his work.

Mr. George is neither a faddist nor a sentimentalist. But he loves children and his heart is big and kind. He was successful in business and it occurred to him that much moral good could be done by providing a summer camp for poor boys—bad boys, if you please—waifs in the streets of the cities, where amid the pure and healthful surroundings of nature they could enjoy themselves and indulge their craving for outdoor life. He did not propose to maintain a free camp and support the children in idleness; his idea was that they should work for what they got, and be taught the value of self-help and self-respect and to feel that things worth having are worth striving for.

Mr. George's first step was to institute a government among his protégés—a democracy. He made them the governors of the unique republic he had established, put them upon their honor and left them to punish those who violated the laws of the camp. By wise and gentle counsel he directed their sports and diversions and led them to respect order, truth, cleanliness and whatever was true and honorable and manly, and so won their confidence and affection. The George, Jr., republic appealed to the imagination and the better instincts of these children of the streets, and in its collective life amid the clean, moral atmosphere of the country, ideals and character began to develop. Out of it grew a fine patriotism, a sense of loyalty to the republic and the principles on which it was founded.

Some of the boys who went there first—rather tough they were, according to our fancy—have grown to useful, honorable manhood, and they attribute their success and advancement in life to the lessons and wholesome examples they learned in the George, Jr. republic. That institution claims their attachment and sympathy. They are living testimonials to the beneficence of Mr. George's original undertaking. They are the fruit of a generous, kindly endeavor (Mr. George refuses to call it a charity), and their experience has added to the quality of their citizenship and the stability of their manhood.

Mr. George, the founder of this unique juvenile community, is among us, and during his stay will deliver addresses at the First Congregational and Plymouth Congregational churches. Crowded houses should greet him. He has done something worth while. He has found a way to turn unpromising raw material into a fine finished product. He has rendered a great service to humanity, morality and the social uplift by doing in simple practical manner something which answers the teaching of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me."

"A baa-baa-baa!" exclaims the intelligent San Diego Sun. Whether this is an appeal for more milk or is a cry of distress because the rope is too tight we are not informed, but it is an expressive language that every sheep and calf will understand. The speech may be a trifle inarticulate, but it clearly denotes the genus of the speaker.

BRITISH IN PACIFIC

From Fanning Island, out in the Pacific, come authentic reports that Great Britain is establishing a naval base in anticipation of the opening of the Panama canal, and perhaps in view of the establishment of the American naval base in the Hawaiian Islands.

This new development in the Pacific is something to be reckoned with. Although Great Britain is our best friend in the Atlantic, her alliance with Japan gives the situation in the Pacific a different color. She is pledged to go to Japan's assistance should that country be attacked by any other power. Under existing conditions there is small chance of the British being called on to carry out such treaty obligations. There is no fleet in the Pacific that Japan need fear. But once the canal becomes available, the outlook in the western ocean will take on a wholly different aspect.

The appearance of a fleet of thirty battleships, far stronger than Japan's navy at the present time, would disturb the equilibrium in that quarter, and consequently have momentous consequences. Those who doubt that the completion of the canal will usher in a profound change from what the United States heretofore has had to deal with in respect of its military and commercial position fail to see that it is not our motives and policies that work to shape our destiny so much as what the rest of the world is doing. We are swept along in the common current despite ourselves, and any disposition to hang back would only open opportunity for a more enterprising people to displace us in the competition of nations. Moreover, while we can speak for ourselves, the next generation will be its own master, free to follow its own footsteps or blaze out policies of its own, most likely taking the latter course.

Progress is the world watchword, and if we take account of the probable drift of events from the world standpoint, and if we recognize what would be best for the future of our country and its new generation, we who are now at the helm will let nothing stand in the way of preparing the ship of state for any weather. The fortification of Fanning Island is a more powerful argument for naval upkeep than any which has been urged upon Congress at our own hands.

A rousing meeting was held in North Oakland to support the bonds proposed for the improvement of schools. C. E. Cuvelier, Rev. J. B. McNally and Colonel John P. Irish were among the principal speakers. The meeting was almost unanimous in favor of the improvements. The Independent Order of B'nai B'rith held an entertainment in honor of the grand council last night at the synagogue. Rev. F. S. Levy, former pastor of the church, was the principal speaker. Past President I. Wolff of the San Francisco lodge, was also heard. M. M. Coley sang several songs during the evening.

Reports from the farmers about Mission San Jose state that unless it rains within a short time serious damage will be done. This is one of the driest years in some time.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

ETERNAL LIFE.

(By Rev. F. M. Archer, pastor of Melrose Baptist Church.)

"I will give him the morning star"—Rev. 2:28.

The large, bright star appearing in the eastern sky in the early morning is the forerunner and evidence of approaching day.

And this expression of holy writ is meant to lead us to a knowledge of the evidences of our acceptance in the beloved.

We know we have eternal life because we love the brethren, and the holy spirit bears witness with our spirit that we are the sons of God. Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, and so the morning star of the evidence of our acceptance with God appears.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead evidenced by his walk with the two to Emmaus, his appearance to his disciples and to the brethren in Galilee, then if Christ be the first fruits of the resurrection life, even so in Christ shall we be made alive, every man in his own order. And again the morning star comes into view.

In the revelation we are told of a vast multitude which no man can number, who are in the heavenly place, having washed their robes and made them white. In the blood of the Lamb and through much tribulation came to the heavenly land, recognizing ourselves to be a part of that great throng to be. The morning star of hope furnishes us with the evidence of that great day to come.

Thus the evidence of our common Christianity becomes a source of strength and joy to us and we press on toward the great goal in full assurance of faith laying hold of eternal life, aiming at the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

We would that every one might receive this bright morning star of hope and live in its light even unto the perfect day.

SONG OF THE DRUM

I stir the blood with my rub-a-dub
And cheer the victors on;

I share my life with the squealing-fife

In battles lost and won!

I turn the brave and fill the grave

And raise the cry, "To arms!"

The drum's the thing with the saber's ring

To lift up war's alarms!

I ease the load on the dusty road

And tingle tramping toes,

I call the roll for the cannon's toll,

Whether for friends or foes!

I spell defeat as I sound retreat

On fields with carnage red,

I play the tune to bloody rune—

The requiem of the dead!

To the bugle's call as the colors fall

I add the tattoo's play,

When the sun goes down with murky frown

To end the soldier's day!

For a thousand years of hopes and fears

The drum has led the way,

It rouses the old, the young, the bold,

And nerves men for the fray!

RAYMOND ROBBINS MAKES PLEA FOR IMMIGRANTS

Declares United States Was Made by Them; Would Use Schools as Social Centers

In the main auditorium of the First Congregational church Raymond Robbins, here in the interest of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, made a strong speech last evening for the immigrant and his better legislation to properly protect the immigrants and to protect them from men who rob them because of their ignorance of American customs.

"This nation," said Robbins, "was made by immigrants. Immigration is an expression of the quest for a larger life. As a nation we are the least skilled craftsmen of the world. We don't pay the price of real efficiency. We won't take the time."

Industrial efficiency rests upon the willingness to work. The parasite, whether a palace car bum or a freight car bum, is a frightful burden. The majority of immigrants are red-blooded, competent men and women, eager to work.

"I would like to see in California a body of public law which would prevent the extinction of the immigrant and prevent also the pressure of immigrant need against our American standards."

Robbins advocated the use of the public school buildings as social centers, the printing in their native languages the laws and ordinances that most closely touch the life of the immigrants, the establishment of a state bureau of immigration, the enactment of laws for the protection of the immigrant against dishonest bankers of their own races, and the creation of a state labor bureau.

"In California," he declared, "there is room for 35,000,000 or 40,000,000 people. We have not begun to use our immense natural resources. We must recover them for the people."

A comparison of recent immigration to America with early immigration was made by Robbins to show that honesty and patriotism were "not all on one side." Men of foreign birth were said to be doing public work of highest character.

POWER AND STRENGTH.

The Jew, the Polish immigrant, the Italian, the Greek—all these people are bringing in power and strength. Immigration is going to bring into a great community all the nations of the world."

Robbins opposed hindering European immigration, claiming that the European peasant is a financial asset of great value, far more ready to do hard work than the average American boy. Of Asiatic immigration Robbins expressed a different opinion.

"I regard the Mongolian as more difficult of assimilation than the European peoples. To open the door to them means a case of national indigestion."

STUDY INSTITUTE.

In the Bible Study Institute at the First Congregational church, William A. Brown, discussed the chief qualifications of the bible class teacher, which he said were three, Christian character, knowledge of the bible and knowledge of the pupil. The child was said to be born perfect, with your-fold nature, physical, mental, social and religious, and to need an education which would lead out what was in its nature. From 8 to 12 the child was said to be individualistic, from 12 to 16, a hard worshipper, after 16 reflective. Two crises were said to come in youth, one at 8 years, the other at 16. If the boy can get the victory at this crisis then he will win.

John M. Moore conducted the Institute on Missions, which also met in the Congregational church. Moore presented "the every member canvas" and the duplex method as the best means of securing adequate funds for missionary enterprises." He urged that a simultaneous campaign be made in all the churches, April 14-21, to secure a definite subscription from each member, both for current expenses of the local church and for missions or benevolences in general.

PERCENTAGE SMALL.

"A liberal estimate shows only ten per cent of the men in our work shops are church goers."

This was the statement made by David Russell in his Institute on Evangelism, at the First Methodist church. "There is very little real danger," he declared, "of these men lapsing into pure paganism. It is no use closing our eyes to the fact that a multitude of men have no use for the church. While men are indifferent to the church in many cases, still, they respect real religion when they meet it in their way." Russell advocated meetings in shop and cottage, but counseled his hearers not to talk "sloppy" talk or to patronize laboring men.

John Dean of Seattle spoke last evening at the Plymouth Congregational church on "Community Extension—It's Value to the Church."

"Community Extension," said Dean, "is not willing that any group of men, at work anywhere in the American community should be ignored in the plans of the church."

"Community Extension has a relationship to the modern problem of the church and labor. The labor Unions would be surprised to find out how much of the church's work is absolutely the work of laboring men. But at the same time the percentage is far too small. In 1870 two-thirds of the working men of America were on the farms. Today, forty years later, one-third is on the farms and two-thirds are in the mills and factories."

There are twice as many clerks, bookkeepers and other office men in the average Y M C A. membership as there are industrial members, yet there are far more of the latter class in the average city than the former."

The religious life of a boy was the subject of two addresses last evening by John W. Alexander, the first in his institute and the second at the platform meeting in the First Methodist church. A large audience of men listened to Alexander and frequently applauded the speaker for some striking picture of the boy's growth apt and illuminating phrase. Rev. Dr. Goddard of the First Presbyterian church presided and introduced the speaker as a "former who is worth a thousand reformers."

Alexander said:

"I started out to work with men. I gave it up in disgust. You have to work with men by a series of checks and balances. The boy is a growing organism. His only business is to grow. He can't grow any higher than his environment. Do you expect a boy to grow up good and useful and a Christian when you surround him with saloons and houses of prostitution and all kinds of moral cess-pools in between?"

"Play, sex and religion are the three key words of a boy's life. Everything that goes on in the community is enacted in the play of life of the child between four and six and a half."

"You had better provide a normal meeting place for the boy and girl or they will meet under abnormal conditions."

There is not a married man who would dare to go home and tell his wife that the men are the world's creation. Woman is the constant witness to the lure of the home in the girl's heart. All the world is bound up in the boy. The boy Jesus, at 12 years of age, was wonderful but not the religious prodigy we think he was."

If there had been a great baseball game going on in Jerusalem many would have looked for him there. Mary "took him to the temple" and left him in the midst of the spectators. The boy Jesus grew physically, socially, mentally and spiritually, and every boy grows the same way. Jesus grew evenly, in the right kind of proportion. His was an all the symmetrical boyhood. It is the business of the fathers and mothers and teachers to see that the boy has a symmetrical boyhood.

"The high brow is the most detestable thing in boyhood. The sport and the thing to do now and the fanatic are all blots on the landscape of today."

"The church and the home, the school and the State are in existence for the sake of the immortal boy. We pour out billions of treasure trying to bring the boy back to the church after we have cast them out."

SELFISHNESS NECESSARY.

"I would not give a cent for a boy under 12 years of age who is not selfish. Boys are selfish because it is the law God has written in their lives. Some of us who have lived with boys and taught boys have come to the conclusion that the boy does not pass through all the stages of culture through which his ancestors have passed."

"Ninety-five of every 100 lollards you give your boy are not meant to make him a good citizen. You feel good. The boy's first conscious act of unselfishness comes when he gives way to his playmate in order to keep the game going. If there's a bad gang in the neighborhood, it is because Christian men have given way to the bad gang. The bad gang isn't bad. There is no such thing as a bad gang. Judge Murasky said only 19 boys out of 2600 cases of juvenile delinquency were responsible for it. A probation officer in Oakland estimated that about one out of 10 cases of juvenile delinquency are the fault of the parents."

"With adolescence comes the idea of service and sacrifice. The father ought to live very close to the boy, but not too close. He is to determine all about the sex life. Jesus as a hero challenges the red blood of a boy of 15. We must talk to the boy in a language that is familiar to him. You can't find a hypocrite under 15 years of age. Boys are not religious, they are not women but they have got a religious life all their own."

David Russell of South Africa spoke last evening at the Plymouth Congregational church on the Kingdom of God. Christ was the true king, possessing many qualities. He was also a good tradesman, making good yokes in the

ATHLETE CHOKES TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Robert Thompson, formerly of Wisconsin, who was a star player on the Ursinus College football team four years ago, strangled to death yesterday while eating his lunch. It is believed that the accident was caused by the contraction of the muscles of the throat, as the result of a recent illness of diphtheria.

DOT REVEALS PLOT TO DEFRAUD U. S.

Immigration Officers Discover Conspiracy to Keep Chinese Illegally.

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Because of the differences of the dots over the "i" in genuine and counterfeit certificates of residence, Yee Yuk Lun, a Chinese, has been ordered deported by United States Commissioner Van Dyke.

Yee Yuk Lun, to prove his alleged right to be in the United States exhibited a certificate of residence. For a while the document baffled immigration officers, but they finally determined it bona fide. They showed that in genuine certificates the government used what was known as the "diamond" dot over "i", and that in the document exhibited by the defendant the "dash" or "hyphen" dot was utilized.

The immigration officers declared they believed that somewhere in Mexico a counterfeiter's organization was maintained and that fully 1000 bogus certificates of residence had been issued to Chinese at a profit of $500,000 to the conspirators.

HONOR CONVICT JAILED AGAIN FOR FORGERY

BOISE, Idaho, March 8.—Arrested and bound over for trial in the district court her under $1000 bonds on the charge of forgery, Arthur Laughton, formerly of Salem, Or., paroled convict of the Oregon State Penitentiary and one of Governor West's star "honor" men, is confined in the county jail here after being caught in a snare set by the local authorities.

Laughton forged the name of A. J. Robins, manager of the I. X. L. furniture store of this city, to six checks for $1,000 each, and was about to cash them when apprehended by the police.

Laughton traveled under the alias of W. E. Carson. He came here from Eastern Oregon several months ago. Shortly afterward he married Miss Alice Miller of South Boise and then went to work for a store, which he proceeded to rob, according to the charges filed against him. Out of work, he is said to have attempted to force his wife into a disorderly life to support him.

LEACH ASKED TO GIVE STATEMENT

Gate and Electricity Rate Fixing Goes Over Until March 15th.

Frank Leach Jr., local manager for the Pacific Gas, Light and Heat Company, was asked by the city council, at its special session on rate fixing yesterday afternoon, to submit an inventory of the rate-earning fixtures of the plant, employed in supplying light, power and gas to the city of Oakland and the consumers here. The inventory will be prepared by March 15 and will be submitted at that time, with an analytical statement of the method of arriving at the estimates embodied in it.

Representatives of the Pacific Gas, Light and Heat Company, of the Central Oakland, and of the Great Western Power Company were before the council yesterday afternoon, to testify to the moment when taken from them as Mayor Mott was not present. The hearing was continued to March 15 at 3 p.m.

The council is at work gathering data for the fixing of the rates for the fiscal year 1912-1913 in Oakland for light, power, water, gas, telephone service and other public service. Testimony is being taken in relation to investment of capital, installation of rate-earning fixtures, depreciation of plant, renewals and maintenance.

S. P. WASH TOTALS 315,000 PIECES

That Is Number Laundered in Month by Dining Car Department.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—How would you like to wash an average of 100,000 napkins each month of the year, Mrs. Housekeeper? How would you like to launder 40,000 table cloths each month—which includes tablecloths and napkins? You'd probably tire tired at the end of each day's work, especially if you also had to keep all the linen in repair?

Care of the table linen is just one small item that has to be attended to by the dining car department of the Southern Pacific company. An average of 315,000 pieces of linen are laundered each month in this department of the railroad, and each piece is carefully gone over by inspectors in order to detect tears, or pieces that are beginning to show wear. At the commissary department of the Southern Pacific at Oakland, California, there is maintained a linen repair room where thousands of napkins, table-cloths, dish-towels, cooks' and waiters' aprons, etc., have to be kept in perfect condition all the time. Fourteen electrically operated sewing machines are running steadily eight hours of every six week days. These machines have been so constructed that in a piece of table linen can be darned almost as well as it is sometimes impossible to detect the stitches from the original weave.

Every piece of soiled linen, as it is brought in from a trip, is counted. It is again counted when it goes to the laundry and another careful count and inspection takes place when it is returned. Women do all of this work. A majority of the women employees who handle this linen were dependent upon railroad men who have been married or killed in the railroad service, and the Southern Pacific, in employing women for this work, gives preference to the dependent relatives of those men who have been injured or killed in the service.

'NOTHING WITHOUT
LABOR,' SAYS
GEORGE

Junior Republic Is Just Like
Any Other, Only Citizens Are Young.

EVERYBODY WORKS TO EARN HIS LIVING

Judges, Juries and Town Officers Are Selected From Among Boys.

That the average "bad boy" regards older men as his natural enemies, and resents government by them, and is furthermore looked on by other bad boys as a hero while being punished by his elders, is the explanation given for the "bad boy" by William R. George, founder of the Junior Republic, at Freeville, N. Y., and also the one at Chico, Cal.

"Let a boy be governed by his peers, the other boys," said George, "and he ceases to become a hero. Then, and then only, is the discipline effective, and then, and this only, is the secret of the success of the Junior Republic."

"Not that the republic is composed of bad boys. There are all kinds there, good and bad, rich and poor, and the only requirement is that they have "good stuff" in them and that they try their best to make good citizens."

MANY ATTEND MEETING.

William R. George, familiarly known as "Daddy" George, so addressed a large gathering last night at the First Congregational church. His lecture, which dealt with his boys and girls' republic movement, and was given especially to arouse interest in the California republic, was attended by several hundred persons.

"It is an extremely simple thing," he said. "We simply made a village. Any of you would do that. You know exactly how to. The only difference is that the voting age is 16."

"We are governed by any other city, by the law of the state and our own. The village laws are made at the town meeting, and the citizens, young though they be, may say, are judges, policemen and other city officials. The boy or girl, being judged by these, is not being judged by elders, but by their peers, and it makes all the difference in the world. The republic, then, is a pure democracy. It is like actual life in every way. The boy or girl is paid in aluminum coins of the village for work done, and must buy everything with this coin."

OUTLOOK IS CLEAR.

"Young people, when they have property interests and an interest in government, broaden in their outlook considerably. The boy-or-it, say, is as good physically as the man of 21, and often has a clearer outlook. His mind is not hampered by the opinions of experts. He makes a better 'man'." I do not advise the lowering of the voting age, although I think it would do no harm, but simply mention this to show that the boy is made a better citizen by giving him an interest in the government."

The average boy realizes that he has no part in anything, politics or commerce, that pays, pays the bill, and that he is not responsible. This causes him to be reckless, to regard his elders as enemies, and to admire the boy who braves them. This makes the bad boy, and the junior republic overcomes.

"The boy of '16, though a man physically, is looked on as an infant mentally, yet in time of war he is the first to come forward to save the country. The boy soldier is as intelligent and as efficient as the soldier of '41. Not only private, but also officers are often more boys, and it is usually these that make the big records."

"But when peace comes, the boy is an infant. He does not have a chance."

GOOD FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

"The republic idea is a mighty good thing for the boys and girls... It is a good thing for good boys and girls, because it makes better citizens of them; and a good thing for boy boys and girls because it makes them good."

The republic idea started years ago at a camp, and has grown to its present size and importance, but that still is too long to tell. Sufficient to say that the republic give the young people a taste of true life. The motto is "nothing without labor," and this, carried through life, will make them good men and women.

"When the boy first comes he must apply for a position, and from his wages pay for medical attendance, taxes, board and other bills. These, he pays in the aluminum coins of the republic; he earns by his labor. He must also pay tuition, $12.50 per month. The fee is only about one-third of what it costs to support a boy, the rest comes from private subscription."

OFFICE SEEKS MAN;
EVERYBODY DODGES

NYACK, N. Y., March 8.—The five highest-salaried offices in this town are vacant, and no one can be found to accept a nomination. Republican and Democratic caucuses were held this week, each nominating for president and trustees the same men, all acceptable to both parties and the voters generally. The five nominees absolutely declined to stand as candidates, and the two committees to fill vacancies are unable to induce anybody to accept the offices. The reason is that the proponents of the board of trustees usually announced to many taxpayers and brought criticism upon individual members.

BAKERSFIELD, March 8.—Five boys of the junior class of the Kern county high school are under suspension until such time as they hire a man to wipe from the flag pole of the school building a can of lard which they laboriously applied a couple of days ago.

The boys conceived and carried out the brilliant plan of floating their class colors from the top of the staff and greasing the pole so that none of the rival classes could remove it. The white pennant with the figure "16" fluttered gallantly in the gale for about thirty-six hours, when Principal Macomber shined to the roof and burned it off with a torch tied to a string, and Cecil Briscoe, Homer Hall, Truman Coombs, Ira Carver and Herbert Hartie are the offending Juniors.

SCHOOL BOOKS AT REDUCTION, IS PLAN

CALLS UNCLE SAM 'BIG POLICEMAN'

NO MORE MISERY IN THE STOMACH

State Textbook Committee to Save Children Nearly 20 Per Cent.

Senator Stone of Missouri Says
America Must Watch
Mexico.

Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, or Dyspepsia Goes in Five Minutes.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—Four standard elementary school books will be offered to the school children at an average cost reduction of 20 per cent from the old price after June 1, according to the prediction of Dr. Frederick Burke of San Francisco, member of the state textbook committee.

He estimated yesterday that the speaker that costs 24 cents will be reduced to 20 cents, the advanced arithmetic from 50 cents to 31 cents, the English lessons from 36 cents to 31 cents and the introductory history from 65 cents to 44 cents. There is a possibility, he said, that they will be offered even cheaper.

The reduced manufacturing cost of these books was shown by tablet submitted by State Printer Richardson, as follows:

CHICAGO, March 8.—The United States, as viewed by Continental Europe, is the "big policeman" so far as the destruction of life and property in Mexico are concerned, according to United States Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, in a speech here last night.

Commenting on European opinion, the senator said that he did not believe there was cause for immediate intervention by the government in Mexican affairs. He admitted, however, that the situation was acute. Also, he said that the United States must insist on the protection, not only of Americans and other foreign subjects, but of property as well.

In conclusion he said:

"I do not see that anything can be done by this government, so long as life and liberty and the rights of foreign subjects are not menaced."

TAFT'S NAME PROPOSED FOR OREGON BALLOT

SALEM, Ore., March 8.—A petition was deposited here yesterday with the secretary of state asking that the name of William H. Taft be placed on the Republican primary ballot to be voted on in the preferential presidential election in Oregon April 19. Following the checking of the names signed to the petition to insure their being qualified Republicans the petition will be placed on file and President Taft become a Republican candidate in this state for the presidential nomination.

RICH FOLK AT CORONADO.
CORONADO, March 8.—The Van-Dorn party of New York and Boston arrived here. The party includes Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt and her son, William Vanderbilt of New York, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lathrop Ames of Boston, W. P. Bardon of New York and G. Amory of Boston.

A full dose of Papa's Diapospin costs only 50 cents, and will quickly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why Diapospin always relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapospin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with healthy appetite, talk with you more. Is that you will feel that your stomach intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Billoousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapospin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gas-tritis or any other Stomach misery.

Get some Papa Diapospin now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

COMMAND IN NAVY SHIPS.

PIEDMONT FACES POLITICAL FIGHT

Mayor Craig Promises to Raise
Many Assessments in His Town.

PIEDMONT. March 7.—A political fight that will shake Piedmont's strength at the next municipal election when Hugh Craig, the assessment collector, will be the bone of contention. Craig, who has started plans to revise the assessments of the town, and promises to raise many assessments, particularly in the fashionable hill district. Who will oppose him is not yet known, but several of Piedmont's wealthiest men are being mentioned as possible candidates.

"I know that I will be bitterly opposed," said Craig today, in speaking of the political conditions, "but do not know by whom. It is rather early to find out. My activities in the tax assessment line are the cause of the opposition. The last assessment was made by Henry P. Dalton, and in many cases is much too low. I expect to have the vote of the small property owner, and probably the women, and if I can pull through, whether I do or not, I will keep right on with the tax revision."

There will probably be no other contest in the election, it being expected that the rest of the board of trustees will be renominated.

The resolution calling for the election was passed at last night's meeting of the trustees. The election officers will be as follows: Precinct, No. 1, C. Craig, Walter Logan, Mrs. W. S. Patton and Kent Castle. Precinct, No. 3, William Nuppenmacher, A. D. Williams, F. M. Frank and Allan McCarthy. The date has been set for April 8.

Mayor Craig was allowed a deputy by the trustees, and might go to assist in the reassessment of the town. It is at present assessed at $1,000,000, buildings $1,250,000 and personal property $140,000. The town extends over 1100 acres. This makes it the most valuable town of its size in the state. Craig states that under the re-assessment its assessment will be increased about $1,000,000.

PENAL CODE IS HAUL OF THIEF

Volume Is Taken by Studious Malefactor; Reported by Judge.

SAN FRANCISCO. March 8.—Some one with a thirst for the law and a longing for power stole a penal code from Judge Lawyer's court room. When this had been done only those holding his honor would not have minded, and would willingly have passed over the petty theft. However, ever since department 11 has moved into the new building small pilferings have occurred daily and the taking of the law into his own hands by the culprit this morning in the theft of the code was too much for the court and the matter was reported.

SOON TO DECIDE FATE OF PACKERS

CHICAGO. March 8.—Attorney Levy today concluded his argument in support of the motion to have the packers taken into custody. The jury and the defendants discharged. It was agreed that all arguments will be finished tomorrow and that the court will give its decision Monday.

who is to lecture here.

REV. J. R. PERKINS IS STILL SERIOUSLY ILL

ALAMEDA. March 8.—The Rev. J. R. Perkins will not fill the pulpit of the First Christian church next Sunday. It is possible that he will not again preach in the church as his resignation is to take effect from his home and will permit him to return to active work. Today the minister is in bed, where he has been for most of the week, suffering from a nervous breakdown, which had so far failed to yield any alleviation.

Dr. W. G. Smith, this physician, has apparently caused a cessation of hostilities among the members of the church congregation and no further trouble is looked for until Perkins regains his health.

STEAMER RELEASED.

RACINE, Wis. March 8.—The steamer Racine was released today from the ice off this harbor, where she has been fast since Monday morning. Fifteen hundred pounds of dynamite were used to clear a channel through a 25-foot windrow.

Has an Original Method of Dealing With Her Work

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, the original woman police officer of Los Angeles, will lecture in this city at Chabot hall on the afternoon and evening of March 18, to the women and high school students. The subject for the evening lecture, will be "The Need of a Police Woman and her Work."

She is a ready speaker and has a broad and comprehensive grasp of the subject, having organized and carried forward with great ability a social hygiene campaign. She has been the means of accomplishing a great deal of good in her home city through efforts in this direction.

Mrs. Wells possesses an original method of dealing with her subject, never offensive to good taste, and yet always reaching the point with the simple, unvarnished truth.

As a part of the police force in Los Angeles she has proved a very useful and necessary addition in dealing with the morals of the people, especially the young. She is recognized by preceding officials of the city as a valuable addition to the community, and the police commissioners have recommended that the council provide additional positions of police women.

VALUE OF HAY IS ISSUE IN SUIT

Witnesses Called to Tell of the Intricacies of Fodder Industry.

Thirty witnesses in Superior Judge Wall's court were present for the purpose of giving their opinion as to whether hay grown on high land is worth as much as hay cut on low land, and also whether or not quantities of thistles in the commodity tend to deteriorate its value to the consumer.

In the fall of 1910 Manuel Fraze of Brooklyn township, purchased from Manuel Ameral, twenty-two and one-half tons of hay, agreeing to pay $1 per ton for same. The bill was paid to Ameral on Oct. 24, and to settle his account Fraze gave Ameral a check on a Fruitvale bank for the amount. Ameral told the court that the check was not honored when presented, and Fraze said that the hay had not been what he had been promised in that it contained so many thistles that it was practically worthless.

Then Ameral took recourse to the courts and the case has been pending ever since for the amount expended for costs and witness fees. It is hard to determine just how many thistles were in the hay Fraze has called upon numerous of his neighbors. He claimed that his ordered hay was grown on the lowlands, while highland hay was given in the order. Judge Wall has taken the case under advisement.

MORE BUSINESS SHOWN IN BANKERS' REPORT

BERKELEY. March 8.—A remarkable growth of business is shown by local banks, according to figures prepared by F. C. Mortimer, cashier of the First National bank. The combined resources of the Berkeley institutions are shown to be $10,094,397 as compared with $8,251,938 a year ago, showing a gain in 12 months of $1,842,811.

ROBBINS IS ENTERTAINED. ALAMEDA, March 8.—Dr. and Mrs. Brush entertained Raymond Robbins at their home in the hills of the Menlo and Belvedere Mountain last night. ### GIRL SAVES LIVES OF AQUEDUCT WORKMEN

NEW YORK. March 8.—Gertrude King, a nursemaid employed by family at Elmwood, gave the alarm that saved the lives of two workmen from being burned to death in a fire. She saw flames coming from a shed used by the workers as sleeping quarters.

Around the household, she hurried to the fire with Francis Stevens. They found the two workmen unconscious. John Dumlap, William Hart, John Tecco and James Lyons. The fire was caused by a lit candle falling off a shelf. The rescued men paid the nursemaid a visit today to thank her.

How to Remove a Poor Complexion

(From London Fashions.)
Cosmetics never really help a poor complexion; often they are positively harmful. The sensible thing is to actually remove the thin veil of stifling, half-dead scurf skin and give the fresh, vigorous, beautiful young skin underneath a chance to breathe and to breathe.

This is best done by means of a mercerized wax at night, like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. The wax can be obtained from any well-stocked druggist. It absorbs the disfiguring cuticle gradually, harmlessly, leaving a brilliant natural complexion. Of course, this also takes with it all such blemishes as red patches, mole, pimple, etc. As a freckle-remover and general complexion beautifier this old-fashioned remedy is unequalled.

SUFFRAGETTES DEFY PLAN TO STRIP OFF CLOTHING IN PUBLIC

"We'll See What the Civilized World Thinks of It," Say Leaders.

London, March 8.—Suffragette determination does not seem to be abated by the raids on the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union and ardent opposition by long terms of penal servitude. They have issued a leaflet, Death or Martyrdom.

"Yes," said a member of the union, "the situation is difficult and trying. All of our shops have been raided and tons of literature confiscated."

"The whole press is crying out against us and the police are encouraged to maltreat us. Horrible revelations may be expected as the fight proceeds. The men on the stock exchange have a plan of dealing with the suffragist invasion. They intend to catch the women and strip them naked before a great crowd of men. Well, we may choose to let those men have a chance to execute the plan and see what the civilized world thinks of it."

"Magistrates and prison officials, high and low, are bitterly hostile to us. Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Macmillan, Mrs. and Mr. Petlich-Lavigne and the other prisoners taken to Holloway prison Saturday night were not allowed to go to bed until 5:30 in the morning. They were kept up all night on one pretext or another, but really only to punish them."

"Mrs. Pankhurst, the most famous of our leaders, was put in a cold, damp cell, where the sturdiest British prisoners scarcely could live, and this although she was ill and in need of medical attention."

Society to 'Rag'

STOCKTON, March 8.—The society "rag" dance, which was to have been conducted at the ballroom of the Hotel Stockton last night by some of the younger social set, has been postponed until Saturday evening and the scene of the syncopated tripplings of the light fantastic has been changed to the residence of William E. Wood in Morada, a residence suburb just north of the city.

Thus far the arrangements for the affair have been conducted with the utmost secrecy, as it is desired to make it as unostentatious as possible in view of a prejudice against such functions.

Those who have been active in the matter hope to remove the impression that "ragging" is something that should be disapproved of, and the party Saturday night is in the nature of a demonstration that there is nothing improper about it.

It is to be a modest and unassuming affair all the way through. Miss Wood will be the hostess and the dancing will take place in a ballroom of the country home of her father. It is said that the music will be provided by a phonograph. About twenty-five couples will attend. If this is a success other dances of a similar sort will follow, and the "Texas Tommy," the "Grizzly Bear" and the "Bunny Hug," all in the modified form, will be introduced.

IT IS TO BE A MODEST AND UNASSUMING AFFAIR ALL THE WAY THROUGH.

Mrs. August Schilling gave an informal neighborhood tea yesterday for Mrs. Henry K. Belden, who has returned home after a prolonged stay abroad. Mrs. Belden and Miss Nadine Belden are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Belden at their East Oakland home.

MOVE ACROSS THE BAY.

Mrs. E. J. Whitney and Miss Norma Whitney have taken apartments across the bay for the summer months. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown have also taken apartments in San Francisco and later in the summer will go to Lagunitas, where they have a summer home.

CARD PARTY TODAY.

A number of Oakland girls crossed the bay this afternoon to attend the card party given by Miss Aileen Crichton for Miss Cora Connor, whose wedding with Albert Miner Foster will take place April 4, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Connor in Berkley.

Divorced; Reweds

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—John Chester Hasbrouck, wealthy son of a New York banker, and Mrs. Katherine Sutton Mitchell were married yesterday by Justice of the Peace Summerfield and are spending their honeymoon in Pasadena.

Hasbrouck and Mrs. Mitchell met on a Southern Pacific train several days ago while Mrs. Mitchell was on her way to San Francisco after having stopped off at Reno to get a final decree of divorce.

They came on to Los Angeles, secured a license and tried to keep the marriage secret, but failed. Both gave their ages as 30 years.

Mrs. Mitchell is a noted Southern beauty and a step-daughter of Joseph R. Parrott, president of the Florida East Coast Railway. She was married in 1897 to David P. Mitchell, a son of the late Senator John L. Mitchell of Wisconsin.

The marriage took place in New York and was a society event. She separated from her husband in 1904 and went to Reno in November, 1910, and filed suit for divorce.

"Robert Lee was my husband," answered the elder Mrs. Lee. "Mrs. Lee, my daughter, bears no blood relationship to her husband, formerly my stepdaughter, having been merely his stepdaughter when she married him."

Judge Dancer ordered findings for the plaintiff. The younger Mrs. Lee is 27 years old and Robert Lee, the husband, who is said to be an instructor in a law office, is 44.

The complainant stated that the husband had deserted his wife at Los Angeles July 1, 1910. The wife then tried to make a living by working in department stores, but gave it up and came to her mother here.

She's Minus Spouse

NEW YORK, March 8.—The proposed "affinity party" and other improprieties of his comely wife won a verdict yesterday afternoon for Dr. Alexander Abrams in his suit for divorce from Mrs. Amelia Fender-Abrams, herself a physician.

Dr. Abrams charged his wife with acts of infidelity with Henry M. Wolf, a wealthy San Francisco merchant. A former maid in her home at 1201 Madison Avenue told of big dinners and other "goings on" in the house whenever Wolf would come here from his Western home.

BEAUTY'S MISSION

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

THE great Addison says most gracefully: "There is nothing that makes it way more directly to the soul than beauty, which immediately diffuses a secret satisfaction and complacency through the imagination and gives a finishing to anything that is great or uncommon. The very first discovery of it strikes the mind with an inward joy and spreads a cheerfulness and delight through all its faculties."

To my thinking this tribute to beauty is the most graceful acceptance of its importance that I have ever found in literature.

Addison in his tribute does not qualify beauty simply to physical perfection. The beauty of nature, of art or science may all be gathered under his qualification, as well as the beauty of intellect and culture.

It is in the discovery of the beauty which causes the satisfaction and complacency through the imagination, giving inward joy."

All beauty is cheering and uplifting. The beautiful spiritual expression of some writer goes straight to the heart of the understanding and coincides with one's own idea of truth, gives an uplifting to the mind which opens the eyes of intelligence and diffuses a glow of joy all through the human system—a glow so warm and penetrating that the physical body is affected to perfect circulation.

The word "beauty" to the unthinking mind means merely physical attractions of face, hair and form. The face is only one of the many expressions of beauty and is really the least important of the many.

Beauty of mind is the center and circumference of all things, for every thought and every form of expression and action must radiate from that electric spark.

Without mind no movement can be made, either intelligent or physical. The mind that invents the great machinery, the beautiful paintings or the good food is from the one source and is divine.

The unseen spiritual intellect, which every human being has within him, is in nine cases out of ten, lying dormant. The eye which sees the beauties of nature in all the world is the eye of intelligence.

Remember: A beautiful mind stamps itself on the face.

PIGEONS RELEASED IN DEDICATION CEREMONY

DALLAS, Tex., March 8.—The usual form of dedication ceremony varied in the plans of the opening late today of the viaduct which joins this city with its largest suburb, Oak Cliff. The Japanese dedication ceremony—that of releasing homing pigeons—was observed instead of cracking a bottle or wine on the artificial highway as was originally planned. The birds were objected to by the women's clubs of the city, led by Mrs. W. C. T. U., who declared they did not want the viaduct stained with wine. The Dallas-Oak Cliff viaduct, declared to be the longest reinforced concrete viaduct in the world, is 4780 feet long.

Woman Screams When Two

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—After successfully rifling one apartment in the Hotel Atherton, 545 O'Farrell street, while the occupants slept, two daring burglars were detected, fought a revolver battle with the night clerk and escaped amid a volley of shots exchanged.

It was about 2 a. m. when Mrs. Clements awoke to find the two men in her room in the act of going through a bureau drawer. They had previously ransacked the apartment of Mrs. R. McManwe, taking $4. When Mrs. Clements saw them she was at first too frightened to cry out, but when she observed them about to search a drawer containing a jewel case in which were her valuable diamonds, she screamed.

The robbers sprang from their room and hurried down the hallway, making their escape as they had entered by means of a ladder on the side of the building near a skylight.

The cries of Mrs. Clements were heard by J. Landsburg, another occupant, who opened his window and observed one man running across a lot. He fired a shot at him, which, however, missed.

The report of the revolver was heard by the night clerk, J. W. Durham, who seized his own weapon and ran out on the side of the hotel. The second burglar was just climbing over the fence and with his pistol upraised Durham commanded him to throw up his hands. Instead of complying the robber fired at the clerk. Durham then emptied his revolver at the culprit, who returned the fire as he backed away and finally ran after his companion.

The shots were heard by Policemen Collier and Johnson, who approached the scene from different directions but failed to find the burglars.

FRUITVALE, March 8.—The upsetting of a coal oil lamp last night was the cause of a blaze which destroyed the home of H. E. Peterson, 2532 Wisconsin avenue.

The man had returned from a visit to his wife, who is ill in the East Bay Sanatorium, and on lighting the lamp put it on the mantelpiece. Turning, he accidentally struck it with his elbow. It crashed to the floor, exploded, and scattered burning oil about the place.

Peterson turned in a fire alarm, but before the Fruitvale department got there the fire was beyond control. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Loan agents who let out their money at usurous rates and attend church were pictured yesterday as hypocrites by Judge K. M. Landis of the United States District Court.

A defendant before Judge Landis had admitted nefarious methods in the conduct of their loan business and the court inquired of him if he attended church on Sunday.

"Yes, every Sunday," replied the loan agent.

"Well, you don't let your religion interfere with your business; you are a hypocrite," was the comment of the court.

PEKING, March 8.—The United States protected cruiser Cincinnati arrived today at Taku at the mouth of Pei-Ho and the transport Aberden, which left Shanghai on Tuesday, with 200 marines, is expected tomorrow. The foreign legations received reports from consuls stating that dissensions have broken out in the southern provinces.

The scheme by which General Li Yuen Hong, vice-president of the republic, was to proceed to Nanking to take the oath of office, has failed. It is understood he fears his departure from Wu Chang would precipitate trouble. It is President Yuan's intention to take the oath of office at Peking on March 18.

The several millions of tools which are to be paid over to Yuan Shih Kai in the next few days by bankers representing the financial interests of the United States, Great Britain, Germany and France, possibly will enable Yuan to reproduce the allegations of many of the soldiers who recently have been causing trouble.

Hugill, superintendent of grounds at the university, and to the detectives, to having stolen two of the instruments, valued together at $70. He was traced through the sale of the stolen instruments at a pawnshop.

Schiller, who is 24 years of age, claims to have come here from Chicago, and to have been out of employment since arriving. Nine of the microscopes have disappeared from the laboratory and have not been traced, with the exception of these two. Schiller denied knowledge of the other seven. His ball was fixed this morning by Judge Edgar at $100.

LONDON, March 8.—Although the action of the United States Senate in connection with arbitration was expected in official circles, certain disappointment is felt that it should be found necessary to amend the treaty, thus nullifying the work of months for as it stands it is considered that an agreement is useless.

There is no amendment, however, officials are having recognized that the British government did its best both to secure a good treaty and its endorsement by the United States Senate.

The evening newspapers expressed no surprise at the emanuclation of the arbitration treaty by the United States Senate so as to eliminate from their operation the Monroe doctrine, immigration and state debts.

The Pall Mall Gazette says such treaties are only possible between nations which are likely to fight and there is no need to sign and seal a declaration of love and affection for one's brother.

"The Japanese must be laughing in their sleeves," says the Gazette, "at seeing that the little piece of sugar by which the renewal of the alliance with Great Britain was secured has melted away."

The Westminster Gazette attributes the action of the Senate to political exigencies.

EDITOR ANGRY AT
CAUTIOUS SENIORS

Editorializes on Upper Classmen Who Fill Programs Before Dance.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 8.—Some members of the senior class at the university are determined to take no chances with the fickle fortune that specially pervades the ballroom. They are already filling their programs for the Senior Ball, which will not take place for two months and a half.

Of course it is being quietly done, as it is an unpardonable breach of college etiquette. It has come to the ears, however, of Editor Morse A. Cartwright of the Daily Californian, the college newspaper, and he comments on it editorially this morning in the following way, under the title, "An Absurdity."

"With the Senior Ball scheduled some ten weeks ahead, news has come to the editor that certain members of the class have already commenced filling out their programs for the dance. As an absurdity of the first water, set, polished and placed before glass, this action bears perfection. It is extremely discouraging to think that Seniors in this university should be guilty of such unbecoming and irrational folly.

In the custom of making out dance programs over three weeks in advance, by members of the oldest and, supposedly, the most conservated class is initiated by any appreciable number, what may we expect from the lower classes?"

The Californian urges that the race after dances be postponed until a reasonable time between the hall and until the program is announced by the committee.

WORKMAN SUES FOR
$25,000 DAMAGES

Horace A. Carpenter asks for a big sum from Rulofson Window Co.

Horace A. Carpenter of 1724 Central Avenue, Alameda, filed suit today against the Rulofson Metal Window company for $25,000 damages. Attorney L. Randolph Wohlman, counsel for Carpenter, Carpenter was an employee of the Rulofson Metal Products company.

The Rulofson company dropped a ratcheting brace from the scaffolding on which he was working.

The tool struck Carpenter on the head inflicting injuries which kept him in the Merritt hospital for two months and from which he has not yet recovered.

Carpenter says that he cannot work over and that he is subject to sudden convulsive contractions of the muscles which interfere with his resuming work.

The Rulofson company was doing a great deal of work for the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

The Pacific Gas and Electric company has paid Carpenter's hospital and doctor bills and afforded other financial relief, but Carpenter's friends that the Rulofson company has not offered to recognize his claim against them, hence the suit for $25,000 damages.

FOUR MAIN GATEWAYS.

"We have at least four main gateways to the city that naturally demand our attention: These are College avenue, Telegraph avenue, Shattuck avenue and Adeline street (as one) and San Pablo avenue. These streets are already in great need of repair. To continue the policy of repairing them from year to year will cost us tens of thousands of dollars and still leave us with streets that would be no pride to our city and an enhancement to abutting property.

The committee on streets will call on each of these thoroughfares, added to regular street traffic, raises clouds of dust from the macadam, unless constantly sprinkled. College avenue should be widened to a line with the concrete sidewalk, and all poles should be removed. This would afford, in a measure, hill-side drive. Telegraph avenue, Shattuck avenue and Adeline street and San Pablo avenue, should be paved with asphalt to the south town line, by virtue of their width and command of all traffic as the main entrances to the city, would add immeasurably to the enhancement of the city. Such a project should be enthusiastically endorsed by the entire citizen-ship."

(Signed.)

E. H. COWLES.

Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation with which you have done for my son. It caused me to despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life.

I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimony.

PUBLIC MUSEUM CURATOR REPORTS

During February, 3258 visitors saw exhibits from many lands.

C. P. Wilcomb, curator of the Oakland public museum, has submitted the following report for the month of February:

The number of visitors as recorded by the turnstiles was 3258 and the attendance from the opening to date 70,183.

Contributions of material for exhibition were received from 15 different individuals numbering 117 specimens. One loan of four articles was accepted from the Rutherford Guards.

Two classes from the public schools came to the museum for lectures and Mrs. de Veer visited several schools in West Oakland and spoke on different topics.

In the mechanical shop considerable time was devoted to mounting birds and insects to lean in schools for illustrative purposes, framing, unearthing, pictures and other material for exhibition and finishing several pieces of equipment.

Much time and attention has been given by Mrs. de Veer to collecting fresh wild flowers for the permanent display which is being maintained. During the month 53 varieties were shown, ranging from 16 to 52 species at any time.

CLASSED TO SCHOOLS.

A beginning has been made in the preparation of circulating exhibits to loan to schools and the curator has written numerous letters soliciting donations of material for this purpose. In February 15 schools in three different schools and their expression of the value of this project to the teachers of natural history has been warmly appreciated.

During the month an antique exhibit of a fair amount was loaned to Miss Moore for use at a Dickens entertainment and a pair of hoops to Mrs. Winchester, all being returned safely.

Charles Hill was absent from February 8 to 18 on the latter half of his vacation and his brother, George T. Hill, served as substitute.

Mr. Vee attended four zoological lectures at the University of California delivered by Professor Gifford.

Mr. Johnson, Mr. Avery and Mr. Putney attended the city architect's office and visited the museum several times planning and estimating in regard to moving and re-modelling the barn.

Mr. Allen of Alameda spent a portion of two days with the antique room in the demonstration of weaving by the lecturer.

INSECT SPECIMENS.

The curator made a trip to Santa Rosa on February 21 to inspect a lot of insect and mammals offered for sale. J. S. Bryant, front page, took advantage of the fine weather, the holiday of the 22d and excursion rates on the railroad to pay a visit to the Indian rancheria east of Hopland, where he had the good fortune to secure a unique collection of ethnological specimens, including 54 items for the museum, manufactured on the 25th.

Donations were made as follows:

Joaquin Alves, one California bird; Professor Frederick L. Bamford, eight coins; Dr. A. L. Bailey, seven pieces of art; Wm. one natural history specimen; Cincinnati art museum, 28 photographs; pictures of famous works of art; Miss Julie Dole, 16 natural history specimens; W. Otto Emerson, one California bird; Frank Farina, one California bird; Mandar Goldwater, eight pieces early United States postal currency; Mrs. Harry Fleete, C. Gove, one antique pitcher; England; one book, California 50 years ago; one piece of art, one mounted bird; George MacCloskey, one California bird; George Walter Vincent Smith, one bound book, historical; Mrs. Sarah A. Smith, one historical newspaper; Mrs. George H. Taylor, six pieces of metal; Mr. Alfred S. Twichell, three pieces of porcelain money, one ancient Roman coin; W. K. Vickery, 15 pieces of natural history including several minerals.

ASSESSOR'S OFFICE FORCE CONSIDERED

Civic Association Seeks Information as to Adequacy of Employees.

Questions as to the adequacy of office force and number of appraisers engaged in the offices of County Assessor C. F. Horner were raised at the meeting of the Alameda County Civic Association last night. The matter was brought before the body in a recommendation from the executive committee of the association, which had been asked to consider the matter at the last meeting of the parent organization.

The communication to Horner contains the following four requests:

"First.—To inform us whether or not the assessment in the districts known as West Oakland and the other parts of East Oakland have been reduced during the past two years, and if the over-assessments on these districts will be corrected this year."

"Second.—To state if the present force of deputy assessors employed by him is adequate to properly do the work pertaining to his office."

"Third.—To furnish the names of men employed as office force."

"Fourth.—To furnish the names of the men employed as appraisers, their districts and knowledge as to the districts to which they have been assigned."

Chairman of the association, Charles F. Gorman, informed the members of the body that the last three questions were asked to learn if Horner had been allowed sufficient help in his office, and if not the association would aid him in securing additional helpers.

FORGER PARDONED BY THE GOVERNOR

Lived Exemplary Life While on Parole; Had Two Years to Serve.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—Governor Johnson today extended full pardon to Arthur E. Criner, sentenced to San Quentin from San Francisco for the crime of forgery. The pardon was granted because Criner, paroled in November, 1910, has been behaving himself, and has indicated a willingness to reform.

Criner was sentenced three years in 1900, served one year and was paroled. His term was to have expired on the fourth of this month.

PUNKTOWN PLANS TO HOLD ELECTION

Local Lodge of Elks to Hold a Wild East Show This Month.

The well remembered "Grizzly Flat" affair, given some time ago by the Oakland Lodge of Elks, is to be repeated this month by the lodge in another manner. Instead of the wild western town this year they will have an old New England town, "Punktown" and will hold elections, operate business ventures, and have celebrations in the old New England style.

"Punktown" will be built on the three floors of the Elk building and will contain many activities of different kinds. There will be the general merchandise store, the drug store, barber shop, and big hall on March 29 and 30.

The products of the town—manufactured farm produce, and other things will be shown in the big tent, and there will be fortune tellers, a band, and other attractions.

BIG POLITICAL FIGHT.

One of the features of the burlesque will be their big political fight. There will be four parties in the field to elect town officers and meetings will be held electioneering done, and finally the officials will be balloted on. A big meeting of the "Fusion Party" will be held in the hall. H. A. Melvin, Dr. H. N. Howell and George W. Frick and Coloway Theodore Gleit will expound the party's principles.

Two of the political parties, the Fusion and the Independents, have already nominated. The Socialists and Prohibitionists have yet to be heard from. The nominees are as follows:

The Fusionists. For mayor, E. M. Freeman; clerk, Ezra W. Decot, treasurer, Harry S. Anderson; constable, Mrs. J. M. Shantz; Justice of the peace, James G. Quinn, coroner, Mrs. Frank Barnet, pound master, John Bonham; town trustees, Theodore Glor, Rev. E. P. Dempsey and George W. Frick and Coloway Theodore Gleit will expound the party's principles.

The Independents. For mayor, W. A. Noffsinger, chairman, and Mrs. J. Cal. Ewing, secretary. The following ticket was nominated:

For mayor, E. M. Freeman; clerk, George W. Frick; pound master, Blanchie Bonham; trustees, Mrs. J. K. Ritter, I. H. Clark and Mrs. Max Horwinski.

There will be no admission to the affair, which is designed for the Elks and their friends. Ladies will be admitted on Saturday afternoon, March 28.

ACCUSED MAN IS ENIGMA TO COUNSEL

John Rogers Charged With Murder, Appears Not the Least Concerned.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—John Rogers, who for two days has been smilng through his trial on a charge of murder while witnesses have been giving damaging evidence tending to connect him with the killing of Benjamin Goodman, salesman for the Brilliant Jewelry Company, who was slain with a hatchet in the basement of the San Francisco Produce Company, may take the stand in his own defense.

"Will you testify for yourself?" the accused was asked this morning.

"I probably will," was the reply, "but I am not sure."

Rogers is proving an enigma, even to his own counsel, and ever since his arrest he has shown himself a peculiar prisoner.

This morning John Correia, manager of the San Francisco Produce Company, told of Rogers' having a key to the premises. He was followed by Detective Tom Conlon, who described his work in the case and his tracing the movements of Rogers. Detectives McGowan, McHugh and Murphy, the last-named having arrested the defendant, followed and the district attorney continued to weave his web of circumstantial evidence against Rogers.

The communication to Horner contains the following four requests:

"First.—To inform us whether or not the assessment in the districts known as West Oakland and the other parts of East Oakland have been reduced during the past two years, and if the over-assessments on these districts will be corrected this year."

"Second.—To state if the present force of deputy assessors employed by him is adequate to properly do the work pertaining to his office."

"Third.—To furnish the names of men employed as office force."

"Fourth.—To furnish the names of the men employed as appraisers, their districts and knowledge as to the districts to which they have been assigned."

Chairman of the association, Charles F. Gorman, informed the members of the body that the last three questions were asked to learn if Horner had been allowed sufficient help in his office, and if not the association would aid him in securing additional helpers.

CO-EDS SEE LIFE SOMETIMES HIDDEN

Students of Sociology at U. of C. Attend the Juvenile Court.

Antone Delucci hesitated several moments before testifying in the Juvenile Court in reply to a question as to whether he would prefer his children or drunkards as parents. He finally decided that he would go back home and provide for his wife and little ones in spite of the fact that his better-half did not place much faith in his promises made to Judge Ogden.

Taking in the proceedings were nearly a dozen young women, students of the University of California, enrolled in Miss Peckoff's class of sociology. With wide-open eyes they looked upon some of the perplexing questions of life at first-hand and were greatly amazed that such things existed.

Miss Marguerite Ogden, daughter of Judge Ogden, acted as spokesman for the girls, which man was visiting the county infirmary and a number of other places, where they expected to come in contact with knowledge first-hand pertaining to the subjects which they are pursuing at the university.

Among those present were, besides Miss Ogden, Miss Lucy Andrews, president of the University Women Students; Miss Mary Lester, Miss Helen Youngs, Miss Ruth Barrett and Miss Nora Evans.

GIRL HAS FORMER LOVER ARRESTED

Refuses to Marry Him, But Wants Him Punished for His Conduct.

Henry George Schmidt of 804 Filbert street was arrested this morning on the complaint of Miss Florence Bentley, a 16-year-old girl residing with her parents at 264 East Sixteenth street, on a felony charge. The case will come up in the local police court tomorrow morning.

According to the complaint of the girl, Schmidt proposed to her and obtained the consent of her parents to his suit. The two had met at the paper box factory at Fifty-sixth and Adeline streets where the girl was employed and where Schmidt was foreman. Following the announcement of the engagement the girl alleges that Schmidt made a proposal to her and that under the belief that they were soon to be married she finally yielded to his suggestion. She says that he later refused to marry her.

Schmidt was brought before Captain of Detectives Walter Petersen and admitted the substantial facts of the girl's allegations. He said, when confronted by the police and the possibility of prosecution, that he was willing to make good his original promise of marrying Miss Bentley.

When informed of his statement, Miss Bentley refused to consider the proposition. If he would treat me this way before we were married she said to Captain Petersen, what would he not do afterward? I will not take a chance on marrying such a man I want him punished by being sent to prison.

The police have determined that the girl was of previously irreproachable conduct.

IMPROPER DANCES TO BE BARRED BY THE CITY LAW

Council Hears Ultimatum From General Secretary of Y. W. C. A.

Agreement was reached at a session of the city council in the matter of the dance ordinance, and a rigid law was accepted by all parties after a lengthy wrangle and half a dozen sessions. The ordinance, which forbids all improper dancing, forbids sale or intoxicants on the same floor as a public dance, and places a bar upon minors of both sexes unaccompanied by parent or guardian, is now in the hands of City Attorney Ben F. Woolner and will be introduced and given its first reading at the next session of the council.

The first motion was won by City Attorney Ben F. Woolner when the word "ragging," which the opponents of the most modern form of the terpsichorean art wished to have included in the ordinance, was eliminated as not being specific or legal meaning. Woolner also eliminated the terms "suggestive" and "obnoxious" as having no legally determinable meaning when applied to the dance.

The ordinance finally accepted is a composite and patchwork affair, drawn from half a dozen draft proposed bills suggested by opponents of rag dancing, but proponents of free-swinging, gay matinees and various other interested persons who have presented their views in the council.

RUNS AGAINST SNAG.

The council ran against a snag this morning with the ordinance dealing with the sale of liquor was reached. A delegation of women who represented, they said, from 3,000 to 4,000 women voters, opposed the holding of a public dance on any premises where liquor could be obtained.

"We're not going to allow a dance to be held where liquor can be obtained anywhere on the premises," declared Miss Ida A. Green, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. "We won't stand for it. If you gentlemen pass an ordinance of that kind we are going to go back to the 3,000 or 4,000 women we represent and we will tell them what you have done and that you allow it in the face of our opposition, knowing the issue full well. We are going to protect our girls."

Miss Green was backed by a delegation consisting of the following women: Mrs. E. A. Guibault of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs, Mrs. S. J. Cassidy of the Oakland Civic League of Purity, Mrs. Agnes Ray, Mrs. C. A. Whitney of the Oakland Center of the California Civic Center League, Dr. Mary Plum of the same organization, Miss Ellinor Storv of the same organization, Dr. Susan J. Fenton of the Child Welfare League, Mrs. F. Shanahan, of the First Congregational Church.

MATTER THRESHED OUT.

The matter was threshed out at length and it was explained that the sand taken by the women might in some cases preclude the possibility of having a dance hall and audience forced to abandon its purpose owing to a new disagreement over the question of to's for American railroad-owned ships.

Chairman Adams said, "probably, would be a week before the committee would be ready to report the bill explaining that its members seemed to have begun to debate all over again.

In the meantime a substitute committee will endeavor to reach an agree-

fused today to say whether it was proposed to permit the passage free of tolls of all other American vessels.

R. H. Lourillard, aged 21, E. Madison, aged 21, E. L. Pring, aged 20. The arresting squad consisted of Patrolmen Halmberg and Brock and Special Officer Luttrell.

"We were going down to meet the 2:15 train from San Francisco and got into a friendly little race. It was a clear road and no favorites. We were sure going some," explained the three before Judge Aaron Turner this morning.

"Judgment suspended," ordered the court. "We are willing to show clemency when the defendants prove so truthful."

AH LIM IS BOSS OF HIS KITCHEN

Insists on His Authority; Is Arrested on Complaint of Waitress.

Young China started a small revolution at the Athens Hotel last evening, which resulted in Ah Lim, a 19-year-old cook, being lodged in the city prison on the complaint of Miss Bessie Duncan, a pretty waitress of the place, who had come to the conclusion that the right of suffrage had also entitled her to boss the cook. The case was put over by Judge George Samuels this morning to March 22, when a careful investigation will be made of the charge that Ah Lim attacked Miss Duncan with two collanders and a soup ladle as a result of the altercation between them.

"No can boss my kitchen," declared Ah Lim, when arrested by Patrolman Arthur Bock last night. "Pretty Mexican girl, all right. Make good waitress, but no can cook."

Miss Duncan came to the police and declared that when she attempted some very mild advice as to the operation of affairs culinary in the kitchen or the hotel, Ah Lim appeared in the role of a boxer movement and Young China combined and raised such a disturbance that the whole management of the kitchen was disrupted.

The irate Chinese youth assailed Miss Duncan with his choice American vocabulary of expletives, but finding this limited, he resorted to sterner methods. Miss Duncan ran from the place and sought the protection of her attorney.

DELAY ACTION ON HOSPITAL MATTER

Board of Supervisors to Have Another Conference With Association.

Just what action, if any, will be taken by the Supervisors in regard to plans under discussion between them and a committee from the Tax Association relative to reorganizing the staff of the Receiving Hospital has not yet been determined by members of the board and will probably not be taken up until after another meeting in conjunction with the committee next week.

A report of the committee has been made to the Supervisors containing a tentative recommendation that the Receiving Hospital be used only for emergency cases and that other cases be distributed among the various hospitals in the city on a paid basis. The committee is pointed out that the committee would greatly tend to reduce cost of maintenance of the institution so far as the county is concerned for the reason that more than 90 per cent of the cases it is claimed, belong within the city of Oakland. The city should pay the greatest share for maintaining the hospital, according to the report.

By way of diminishing the cost of maintaining the Receiving Hospital it was suggested that the staff of visiting surgeons could be greatly reduced by attending only to emergency cases or attending all other patients to the other hospitals.

We have simply discussed the proposals of the Tax Association committee," said Chairman Mullins of the Supervisors, "and have not yet decided upon any course of action. Just what will be best for both city and county we have not concluded at this time."

UNIONS OBJECT TO TELEPHONE MERGER

Protest against the merger proposed for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Bay Cities Telephone Company was filed with the City Council this morning from the labor unions of the city. The application of the Home Company to merge with the Pacific has not been received by the Oakland City Council as yet, and the protest was read and placed on file.

MESSAGE FORGED, DECLARES DIXON

The Senate's Vote on Treaties Upholds Roosevelt's Views, Says Senator.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Joseph M. Dixon, campaign manager for Theodore Roosevelt, denounced as a forgery a telegram published today purporting to be the text of a message sent by Senator Dixon to Roosevelt yesterday. The supposed telegram was as follows:

"Theodore Roosevelt, New York: The Senate has ratified your contention in regard to the treaties. Our Democratic friends have come to our rescue.

"(Signed) JOSEPH M. DIXON."

"No such telegram, nor any telegram of similar import, was sent by me to Colonel Roosevelt," said Dixon. "I only sent a brief wire apprising him of the vote of the Senate. There can be no excuse for this most flagrant and evidently premeditated forgery."

Commenting last night on the Senate's action, Dixon said:

"The vote of the Senate on section 3 of the treaties must be considered as absolutely ratifying the principle Mr. Roosevelt has been contending for—that the constitutional prerogatives of the Senate should not be encroached upon."

HAYWARD TO HAVE BUILDING RULES

City Attorney Is Instructed to Draft Law Fixing New Fire Limits.

HAYWARD, March 8.—City Attorney has been instructed by the Board of Town Trustees to draft an ordinance restricting the construction of other than fireproof buildings in the business district and providing a fire limit for that section. The action of the board was taken at its last regular meeting following the recent visit of members of the San Francisco board of fire underwriters, who, at a public meeting, urged the adoption of a fire ordinance if the prevailing insurance rates were to be reduced.

The new instrument will be effective in the territory bounded by A and C streets and First and Watkins streets, and will be similar to those adopted in cities of the first-class.

A new mill, raising the standard of mills sold within the corporate limits and enforcing sanitary conditions in the same, is expected to be drawn up by the city attorney. This is in accordance with instructions from the trustees, who were urged to take this step in a communication from the Hill and Valley Club, which is co-operating with the local health authorities in the movement to improve the standards of mills before the warm weather sets in.

Dr. F. W. Browning, a health commissioner, will be consulted by Attorney Gray before submitting the new instrument for adoption by the board.

A mass meeting will be held on March 12 at the Theatre, when Dr. Browning will deliver a lecture on the danger of unsanitary mills to the public health.

Even stricter measures than proposed by the trustees will be urged by the speaker. The gathering will be under the auspices of the Hill and Valley Club.

Something in Lavender Better Suited to Tastes of Exclusive Hillsiders.

RICHMOND, March 7.—If you had a nice home in Piedmont and were very proud of the same, and took great pride in the fact that you were away in the hills, far from the world commercial and social lights of the great city, and then discovered that real estate men boasting the neighborhood had installed large chrome yellow electric signs on your street.

"Wouldn't it make you mad?" asks the way Oscar Sutro and Adolph Uhl feel about the signs set in, in fact, that they appeared before the town trustees last night protesting in the name of all that is esthetic against the new signs.

As the result of their protest letters will be sent to the McHenry-Kelso Company, asking them to cut down the size of the signs and modify their color to something in mauve or lavender, probably. The color will be decided at a conference to be arranged between the realty men and a committee to be appointed to consider this and pick out a suitable one.

MARE ISLAND, March 8.—The cruiser Maryland is reported at Mare Island to have arrived at Covito from Ecuador. It is not known at the yard, however, whether the warship is to come home soon or not.

The request of Charles F. Cahill, foreman laborer of the navy yard, for sixty days' leave has been approved by the navy department. Cahill had accepted a position with the J. M. Waite Contracting Company of San Francisco. He probably will resign from the navy yard at the expiration of his leave.

Orders were issued at the Mare Island navy yard yesterday for a $500 job in connection with the installation of the machinery and boilers on one of the steam launches for the gunboat Annapolis. Orders for the Annapolis call for all work to be completed on it by the middle of May, when the gunboat probably will be placed in reserve.

The transport Yosemite, which was purchased by the navy during the Spanish-American war, has been ordered stricken from the list. The Yosemite was built in 1894. The ship will be sold next month.

It is estimated that it will be four or five months before the machinery division will complete the boilers for the collier Jupiter, which is the largest job now on hand for this branch of the yard force.

All the material has been received here and is being assembled, while much of the drilling has been completed. Officials of the department expect that the riveting will be begun in the latter part of this month.

Work on the condensers will be taken up on the arrival of the designs of the Althorpe company from the east coast, which, with some modifications, are to be used.

The hull department officers announced yesterday that the Jupiter will be launched at the local naval station on or about July 17. The plans for the launching ceremonies will soon be made public and from all accounts they will be on an elaborate scale.

Oakland Fans Are Clamoring for Return Bout Between Burns and Frayne

ATTELL AND MURPHY WILL TOE MARK IN FINE SHAPE

Former Champion Offered Opportunity to Show Fans Whether He Has Gone Back or if Eylon Was Wrong

Just how far back Abe Attell has gone—if he has gone back at all—will have been settled some time Saturday afternoon when the former featherweight champion hooks up with Harlem Tommy Murphy at Coffroth's Mission-street arena. After eleven years of premiership in the featherweight division it is pretty hard to refer to Abe as the "former champion." To be shorn of a title by a man who "would not fight," as Attell himself puts it, makes it a doubly hard blow to Abe. If Abe has gone back, can he come back? Former champions do not as a rule, but Attell hopes to prove the exception. It is only natural that Attell, the dethroned king of the feathers, should seek another match with his conqueror, Johnny Kilbane, and as far as the match with Murphy tomorrow is concerned great importance is attached to its outcome.

The fact that Attell and Murphy were matched prior to the meeting of Kilbane and Attell, the former champion, has no way off it, and it is up to him to win now or risk the charge that he is a quitter. A quick decision will be removed in the minds of San Francisco fans and those who did not see the fight in the South, so that when Kilbane condescended to give Attell a return match, the proposed bout will have been arranged on its merits.

MUST RECOGNIZE CHALLENGE. It is generally agreed that under all boxes in Kilbane is bound to recognize Attell's challenge for a return match within a few months, provided, however, that the former champion is not bested in his bout with Murphy tomorrow.

If Mr. Murphy, from Harlem, N. Y., takes a hand in the affair, their twenty-round bout, it is "good night" and "good bye" for Attell as far as getting a return match with Kilbane is concerned. Kilbane, of course, would willingly give Abe another chance, but it is doubtful if the public would take the match seriously as the fighters and the promoter would. There are quite a few added features

MUST REMEMBER AGE TO GET COIN

Chicago Girl Would Be "Sweet Sixteen" and Bank Says She's 22.

Stanford Students Shout Advice to Drowning Japanese; Youth Jumps in.

REDWOOD CITY, March 8.—Duncan Fitzgerald, 12 years old, played the hero here yesterday and saved the life of a drowning man while five men students of Stanford University stood helpless on the shore a few feet away and watched two others sink.

The drowning happened in Redwood City creek, near the wharf of the Frank Tannery company. Three Japanese employees of the tanner had ventured out in a skiff. They were inexperienced boatmen and before they had paddled far down the dock the light craft had overturned.

At the bank yesterday when she reported it gone, she described herself as she had been when she made the deposit, only she said she was 22. The clerk said there was some mistake.

Now, Miss Davies cannot get money until she remembers her age.

GOETHALS TO LUNCH WITH THE KAISER

Colonel Wayne Belvin Arrested for Begging on New York Streets.

German Ruler Seeks Information on Canal and Its Construction.

BERLIN, March 8.—Emperor William, who is interested keenly in the Panama canal, has invited Lieutenant Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, to luncheon at the palace on March 10. The Emperor is known to hold opinions different from those of the American engineers regarding a sea level as opposed to lock canal, and also on the inadequacy of the Panama locks for the expected battleship development.

The German opinions are based on reports of German engineers and the Emperor now has seized the opportunity of comparing his views with those of Colonel Goethals, who has returned from a flying trip of inspection of the Kiel canal and other engineering works.

Colonel Goethals found the locks of the Kiel canal larger than those of Panama, but was impressed chiefly by the military methods in vogue there and also by the military administration of the railroads. He goes to Dresden today to see the methods employed in the canal construction there and will depart for England immediately after his luncheon with the Emperor and call thence for America.

DEATH REAPS HARVEST ON U.S. RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Thirty-one killed and 462 injured is the daily harvest of steam railroads of the United States, according to a report distributed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The fatalities are exclusive of the so-called industrial accidents, in which death and injury are not caused by moving trains.

The report covers three months, making the third quarter of 1911 the latest figures tabulated by the committee. In that time there were 3772 accidents to trains, of which 1322 were collisions and 1802 were derailments. The grim total of 2889 killed and 42,757 injured is shown for three months. Of these 23,650 were injured on trains not in motion, in shops and similar places.

The majority of the killed and injured were road employees or mail clerks express messengers or persons whose employment compelled them to be on trains.

Sixty-five passengers were killed and 262 were injured.

PASTORS OBJECT TO BARTENDERS' PRESENCE

SPokane, Wash., March 8.—A suggestion that delegates from the Ministerial Association and the Bartenders' Union might not sit in harmony in a deliberative body caused the postponement last night of the proposed reorganization of the Associated Civic Improvement clubs. The plan as outlined would seat representatives from any civic society, including according to speakers any labor union churches, Industrial Workers of the World, Y. M. C. A., and many others. At a meeting held March 21 a further attempt will be made to perfect the organization.
